There is a season
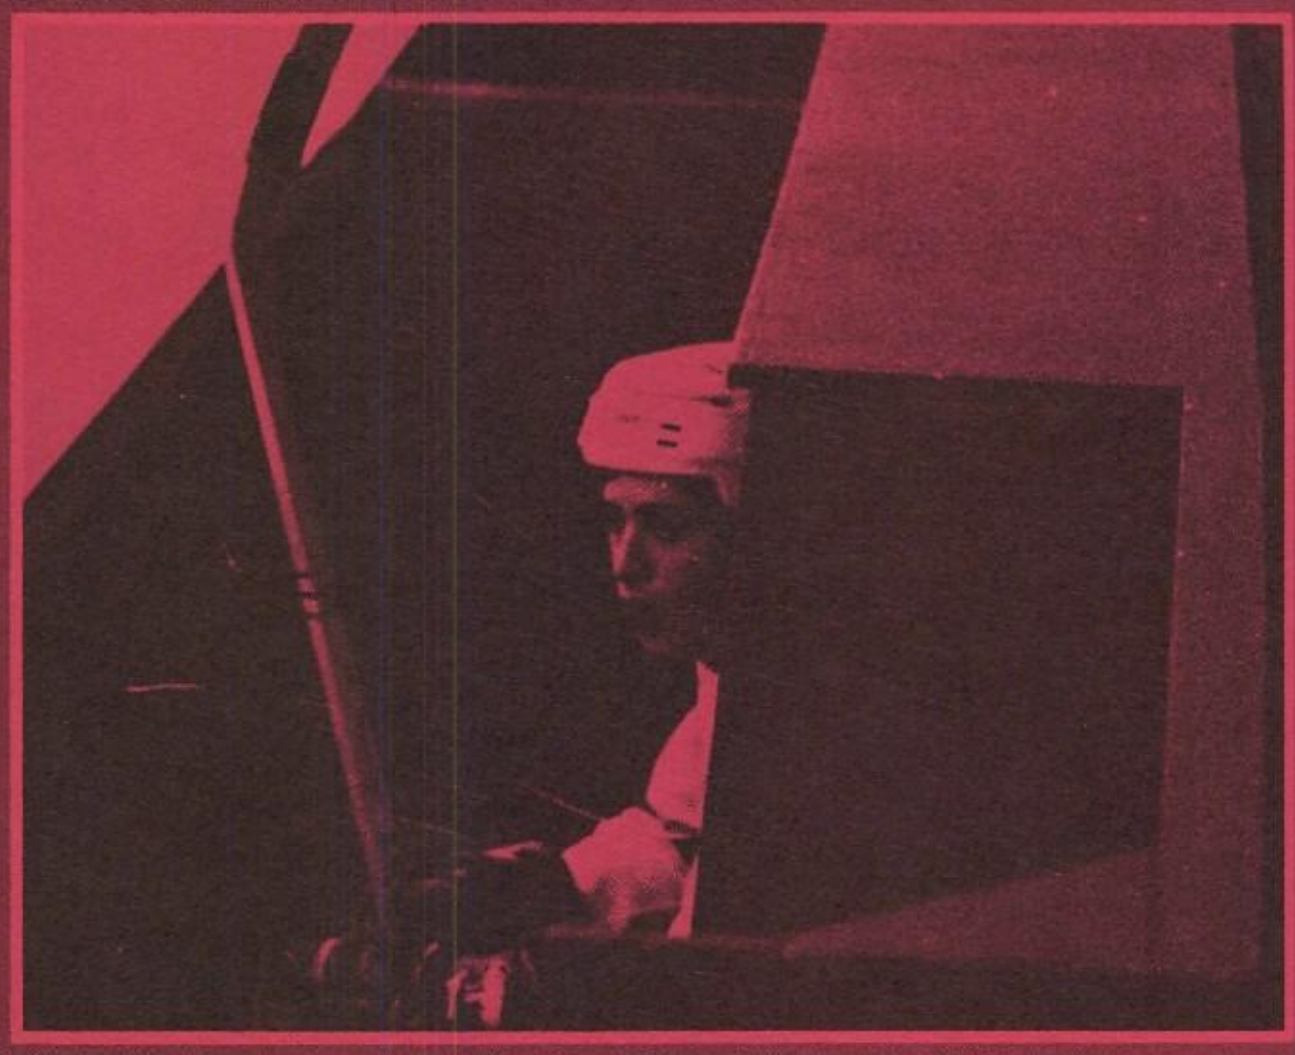
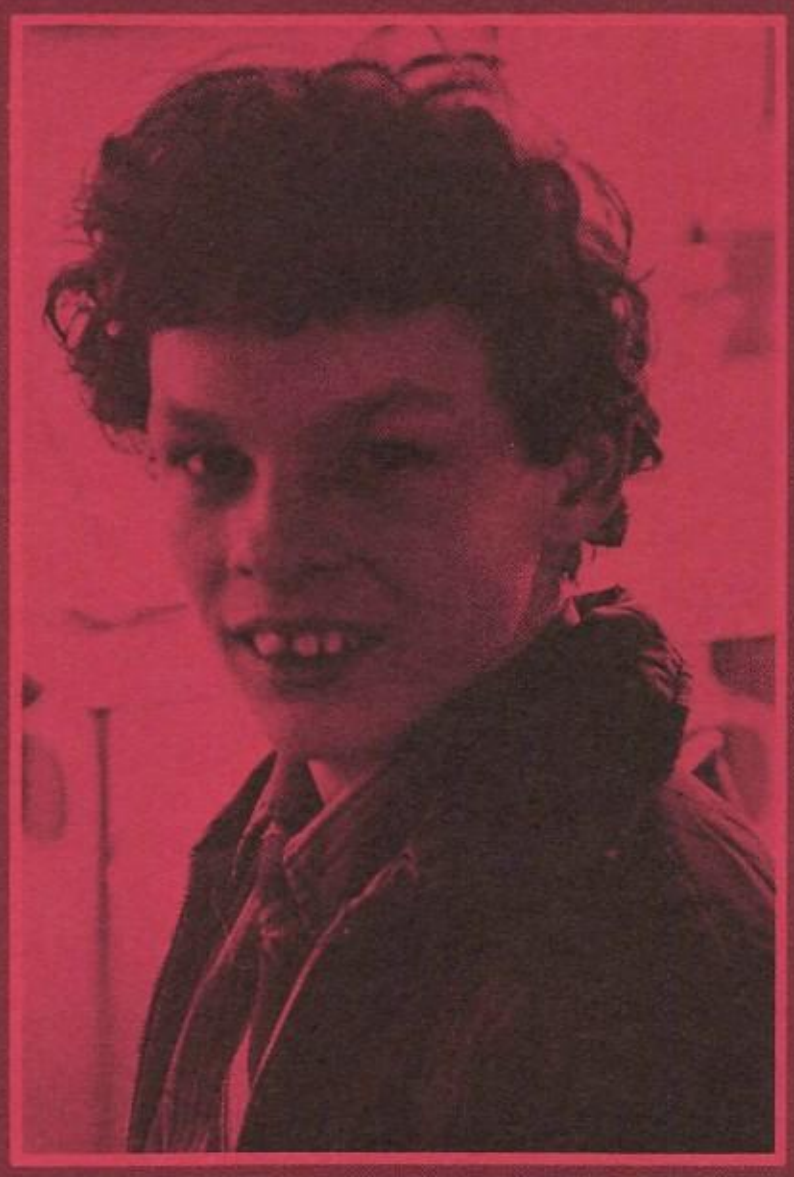
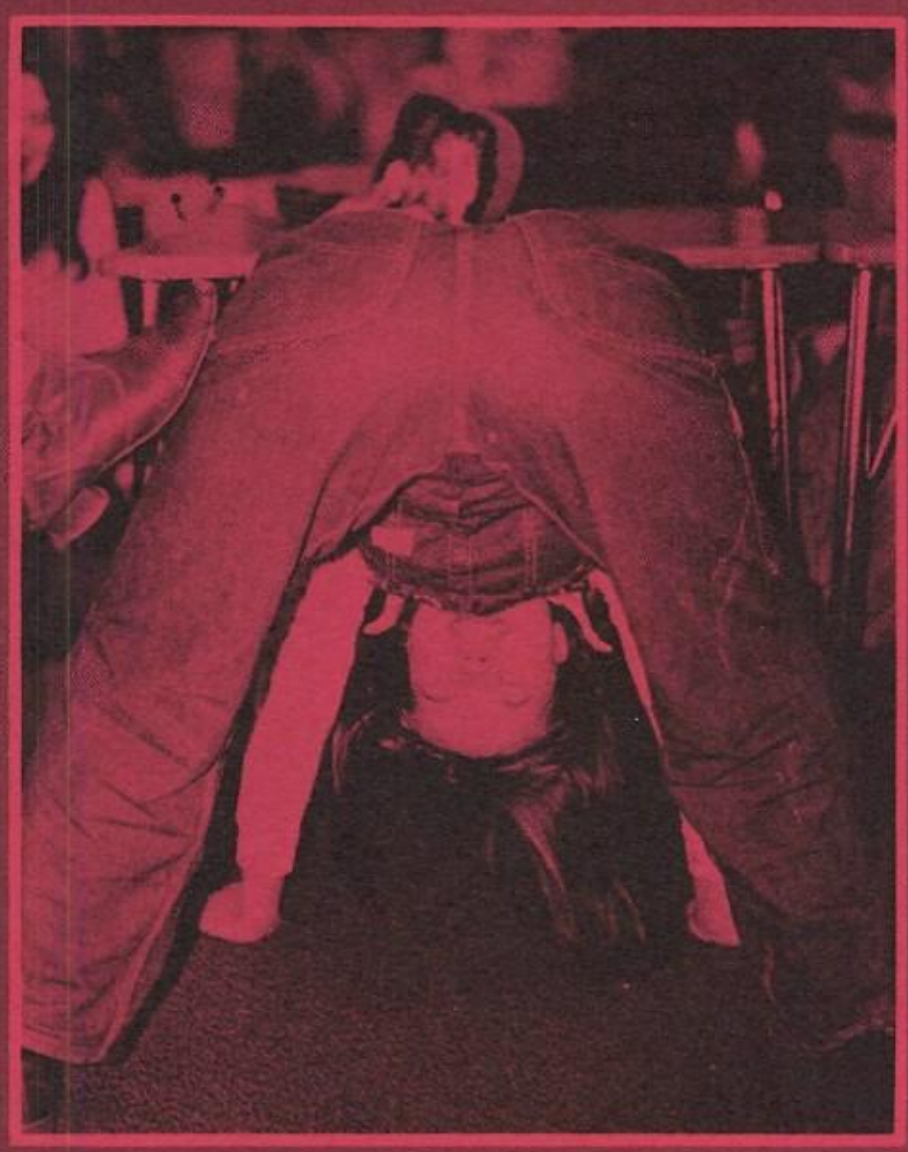
for all things,

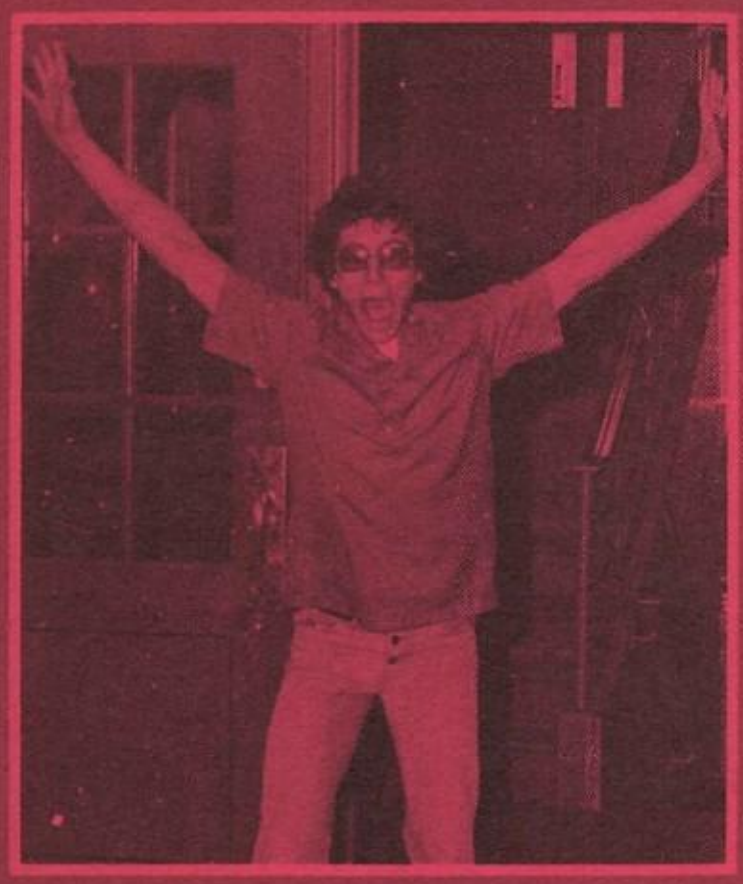


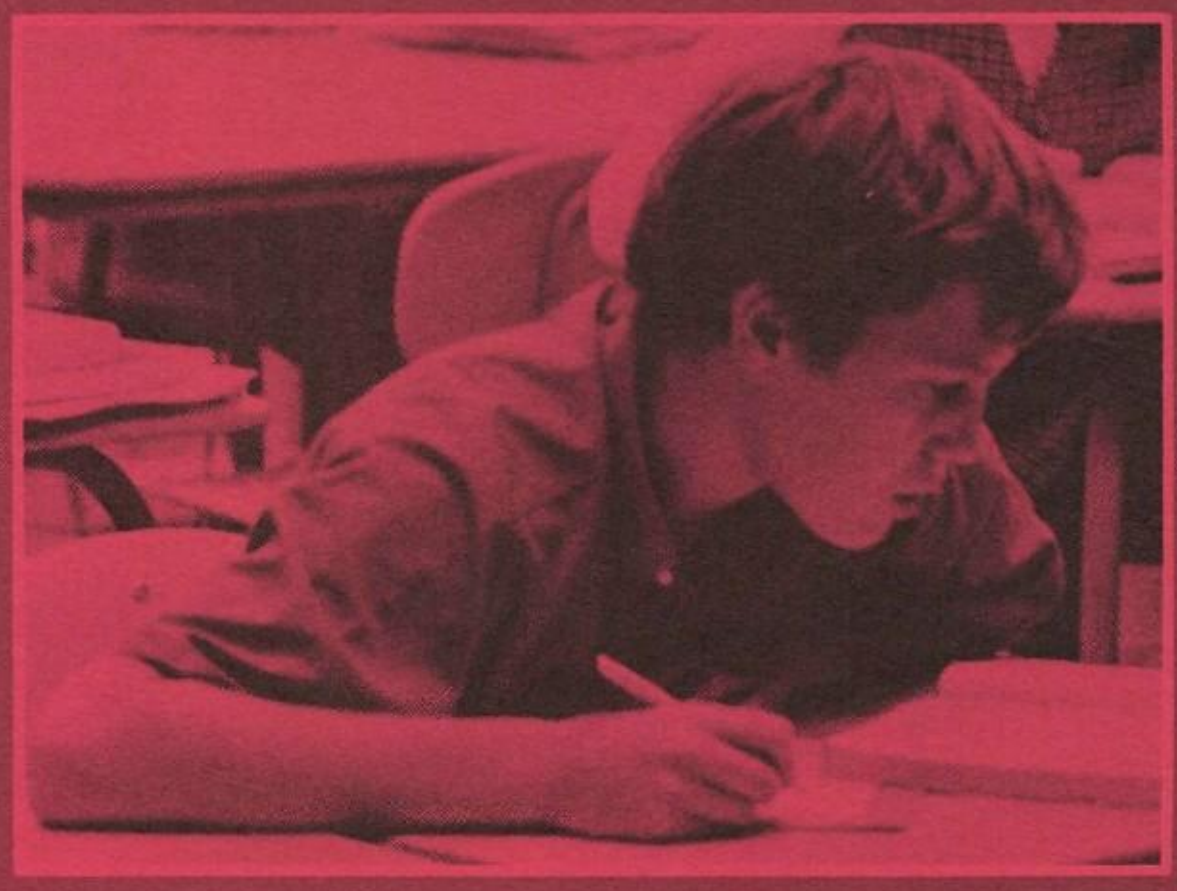
a time to mourn and a time to laugh;

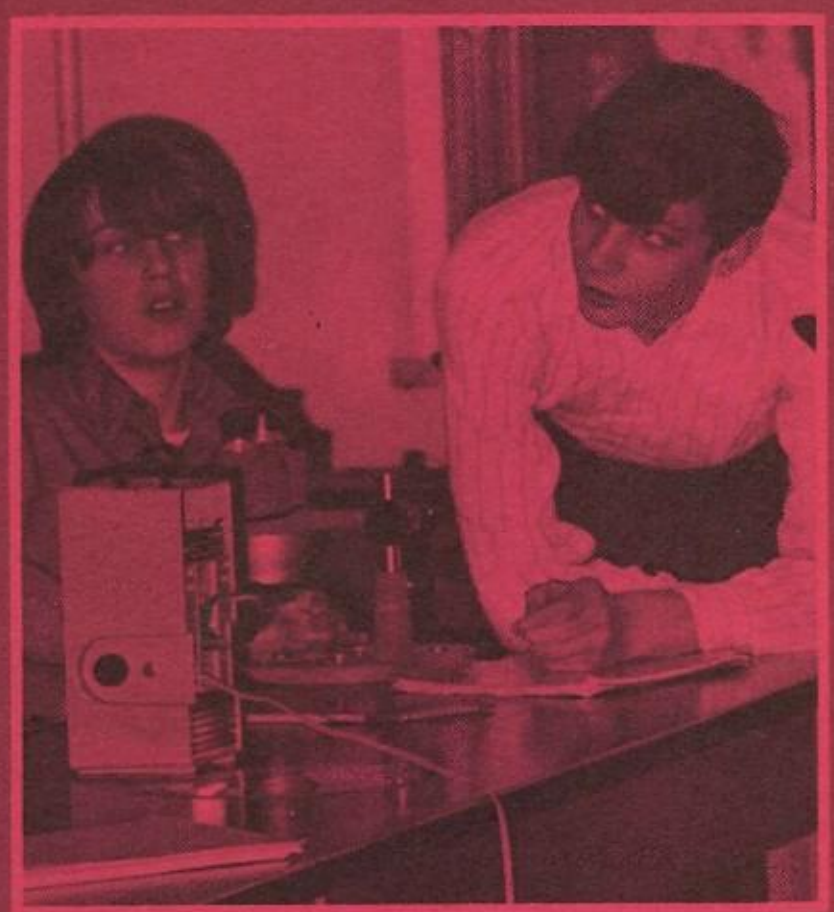


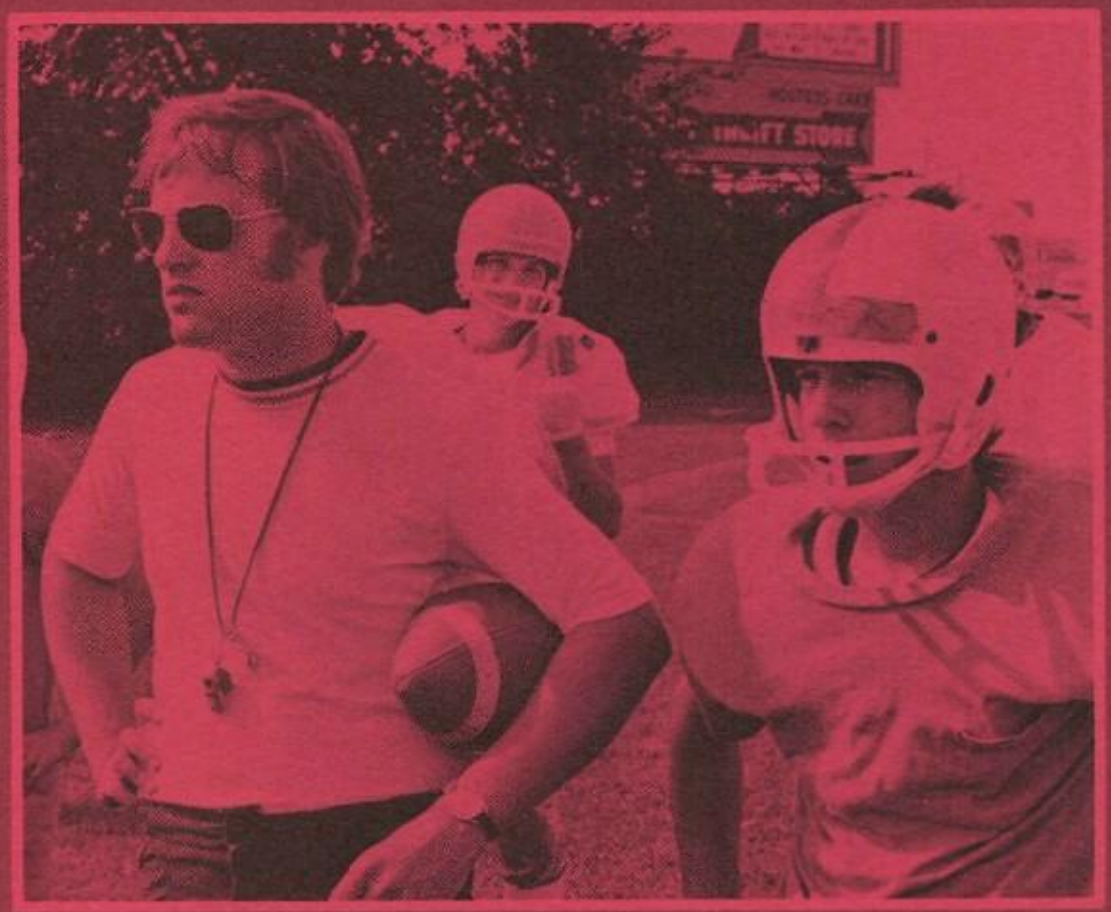


a time to make clamor and a time to be silent;



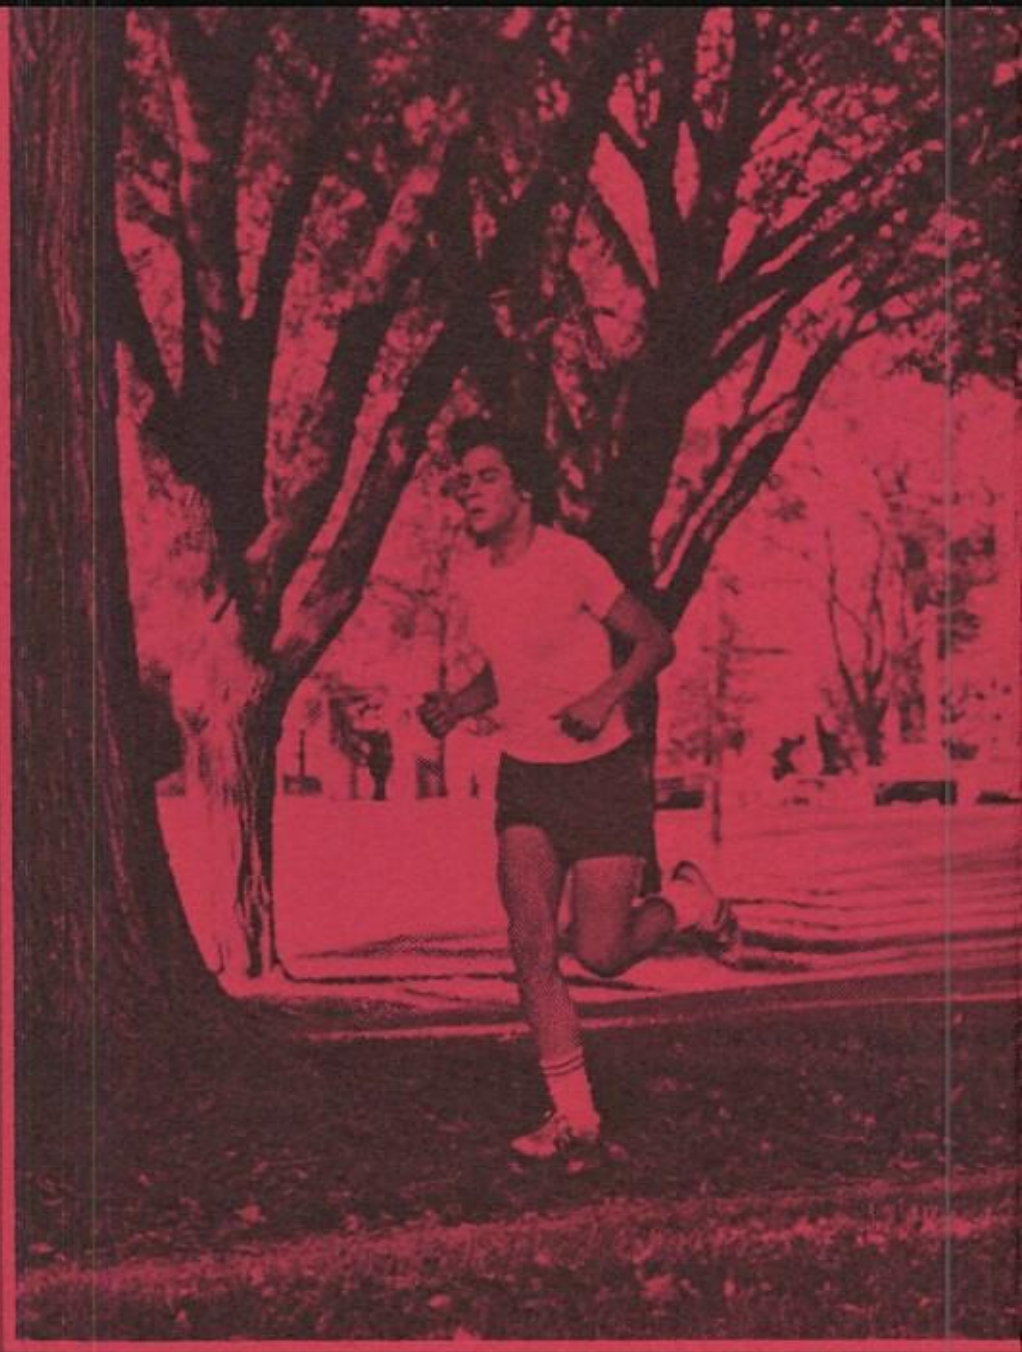






a time to reap and a time to sow;

a time for solitude



and a time to celebrate.

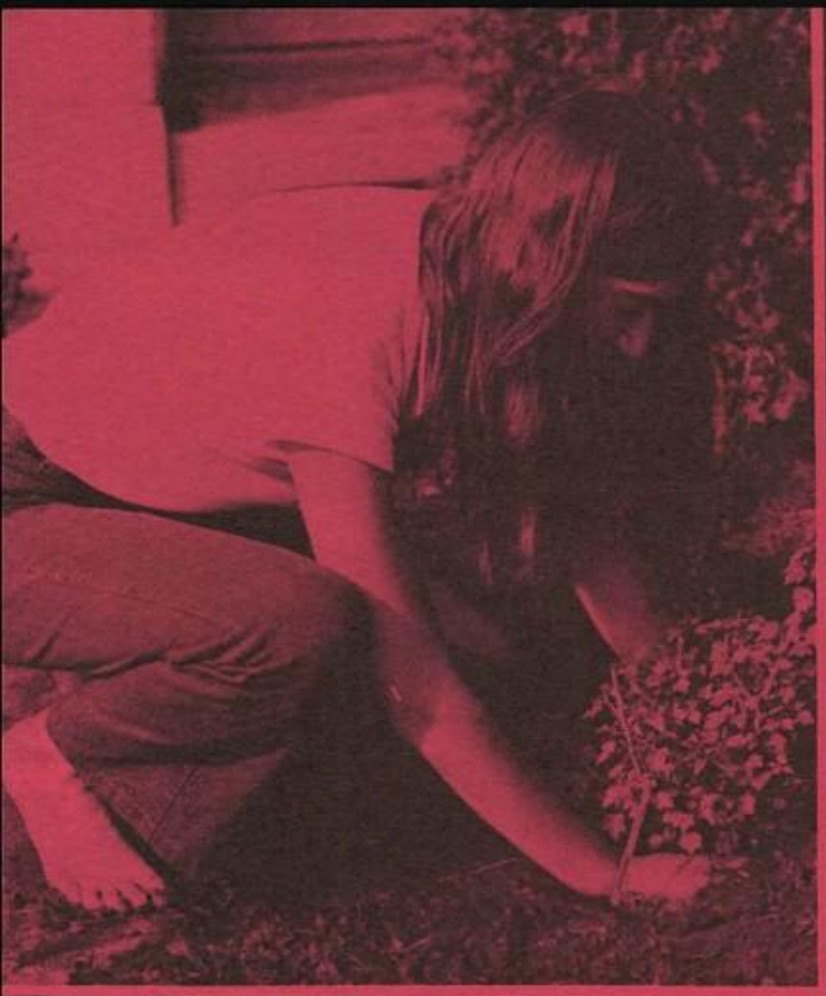
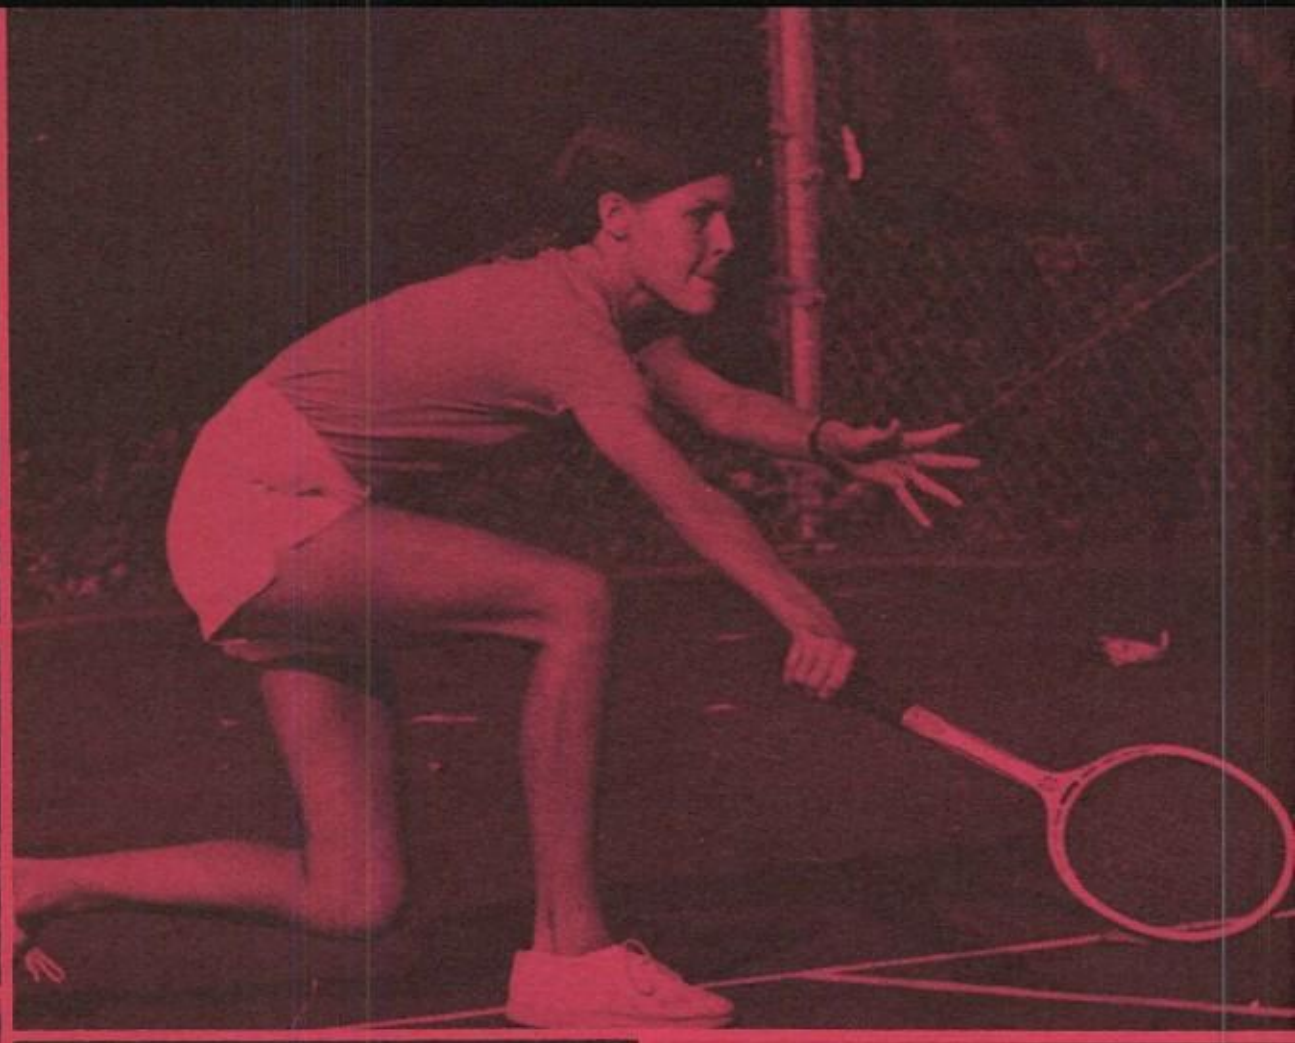
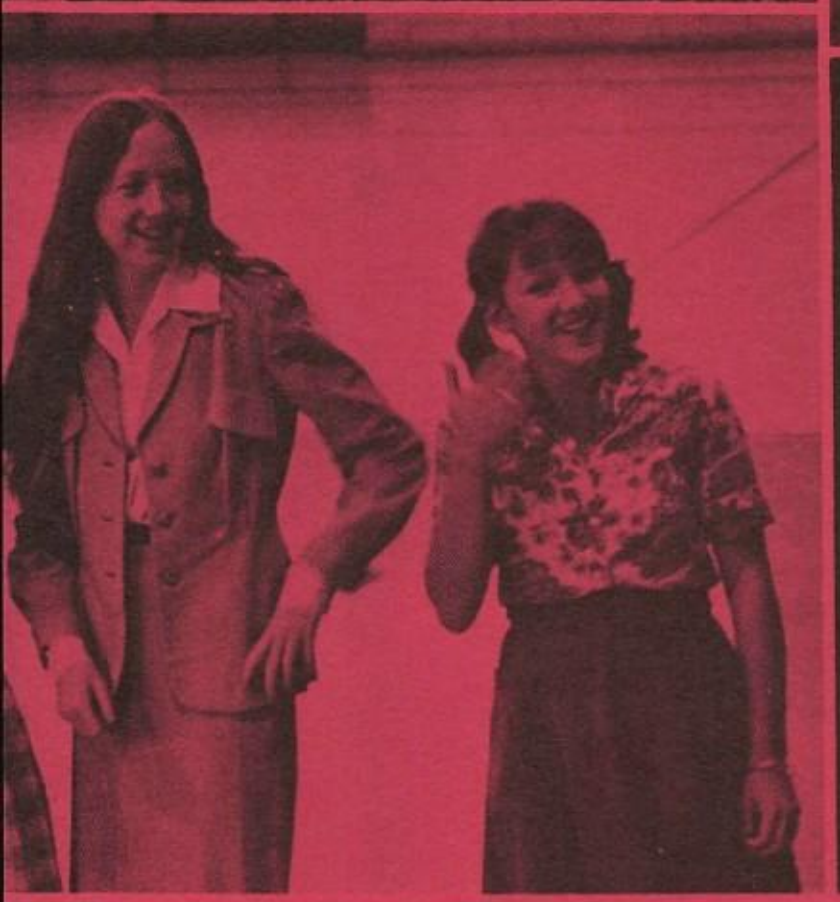
We are on modular scheduling.
This schedule is run on a ten day cycle.
Each day in the cycle has twenty mods.
Each mod in the day has twenty minutes. . .
Welcome to Lourdes.







A strange season
To begin any task.
It is not a time
Of birth,
But a time when
Nature dies.
The death never leaves forever.
It returns in a few months.
But if there were not
This death
The new life would be Choked out.

That I may learn in my own life
and away from home and friends what the heart is and what it feels.

HARRIERS LOG HUNDREDS OF MILES

Cross country is a tough sport. Those who train seriously for it run hundreds of miles during the season; some are miles of pain, some miles of pleasure, some a mixture of both.

Most of the 1973 Lourdes harriers knew this before the season began. They had miles of experience behind them. They knew about the setbacks and satisfactions of running, but the newcomers soon found many dreams unattainable. Under first year Coach Myron Glass the Eagles finished 19th at the St. Olaf Invitational.

It was a rebuilding year for the Eagles. With promising newcomers like Dan Liberko, Chris Miller and Paul Klauda the Eagles stand a good chance of a better than average team next year. Veteran juniors Pete Gathje and Kevin Kelly will be the nucleus.

1973 co-captains Paul Theobald and Tom Taylor, along with veterans John Byrne and Dan Miller can only look back and remember the miles--pleasurable and painful.

GRIDIRON RECORD SUFFERS BEATING

In the 1972 season, the LHS football team reached the pinnacle of success - an undefeated state championship team. Few expected the '73 unit to match its predecessors, but no one predicted LHS would plummet to its poorest gridiron record in recent memory.

The season opened with a resounding 6-0 victory over the giants of Lake Mills. The Israelites vs. the Philistines all over again.

The Eagles were confident; two weeks seemed too long to wait as the gridders faced Pacelli, an intense rival. At the final the Shamrock emotional edge showed on the scoreboard.

Homecoming pageantry and excitement followed. Again the Eagles got off to a quick start but sagged to defeat at the hands of St. Thomas.

The following two contests gave the Eagles a convincing victory over the cellar dwellers of the CCC, De La Salle, and Northfield. The record was 3-2 with three tough Conference games remaining.

Cretin came at LHS like Teddy Roosevelt's Rough Riders. The Eagles could handle the soft words, but when the big stick appeared the tired team was hammered.

Against Benilde the gridders played "the worst game in ten years," according to Coach Mayer. The last chance to salvage the season came in the final game vs. Hill-Murray. The LHS no huddle offense made a Chinese fire drill look like the Changing of the Guard at Buckingham Palace. But it worked and the Eagles racked up 30 points. Unfortunately a weary defense gave up 33 points.

Relief marked the end of the season. The underclassmen looked forward to '74 with a vow to do better. A retiring senior gridder offered this insight, "Losing is paradoxical; you must learn to hate it, but it must also be accepted. I think we all learned from the latter."

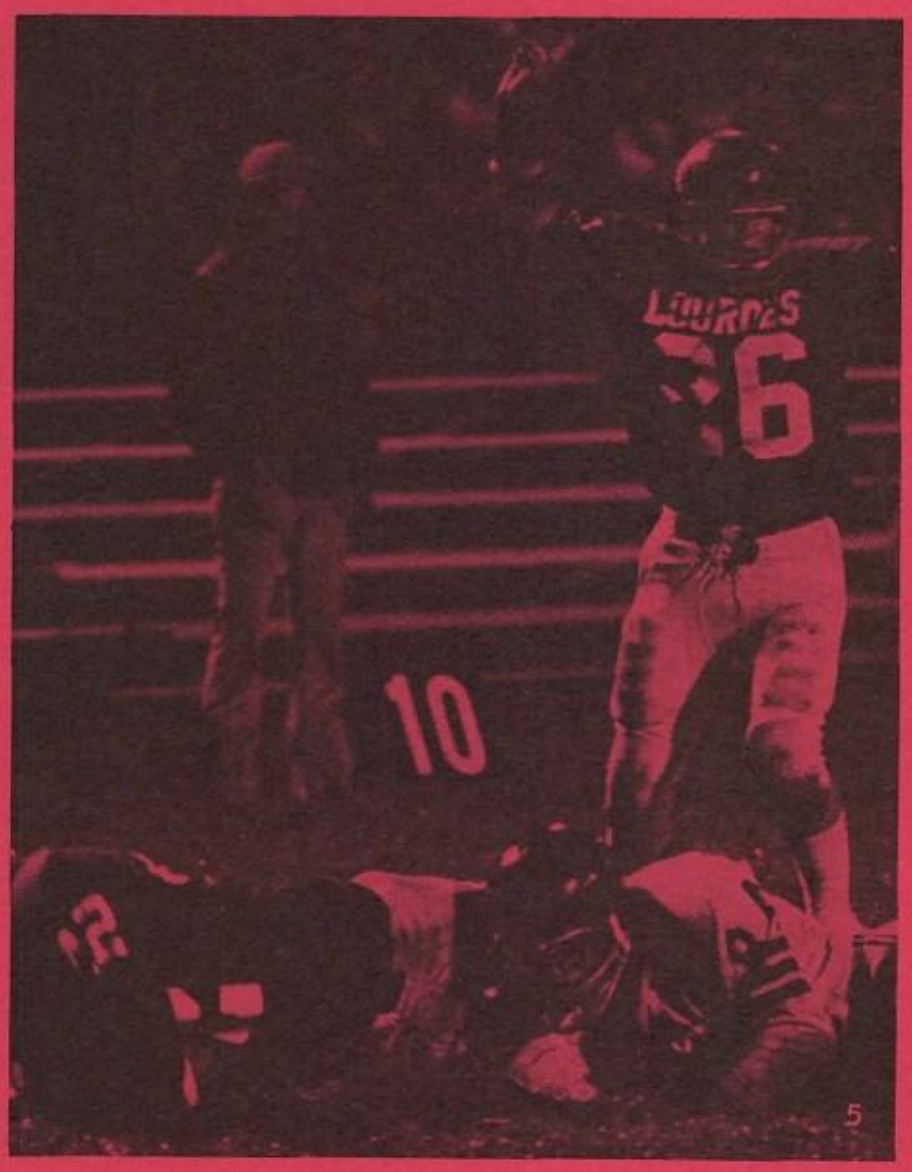
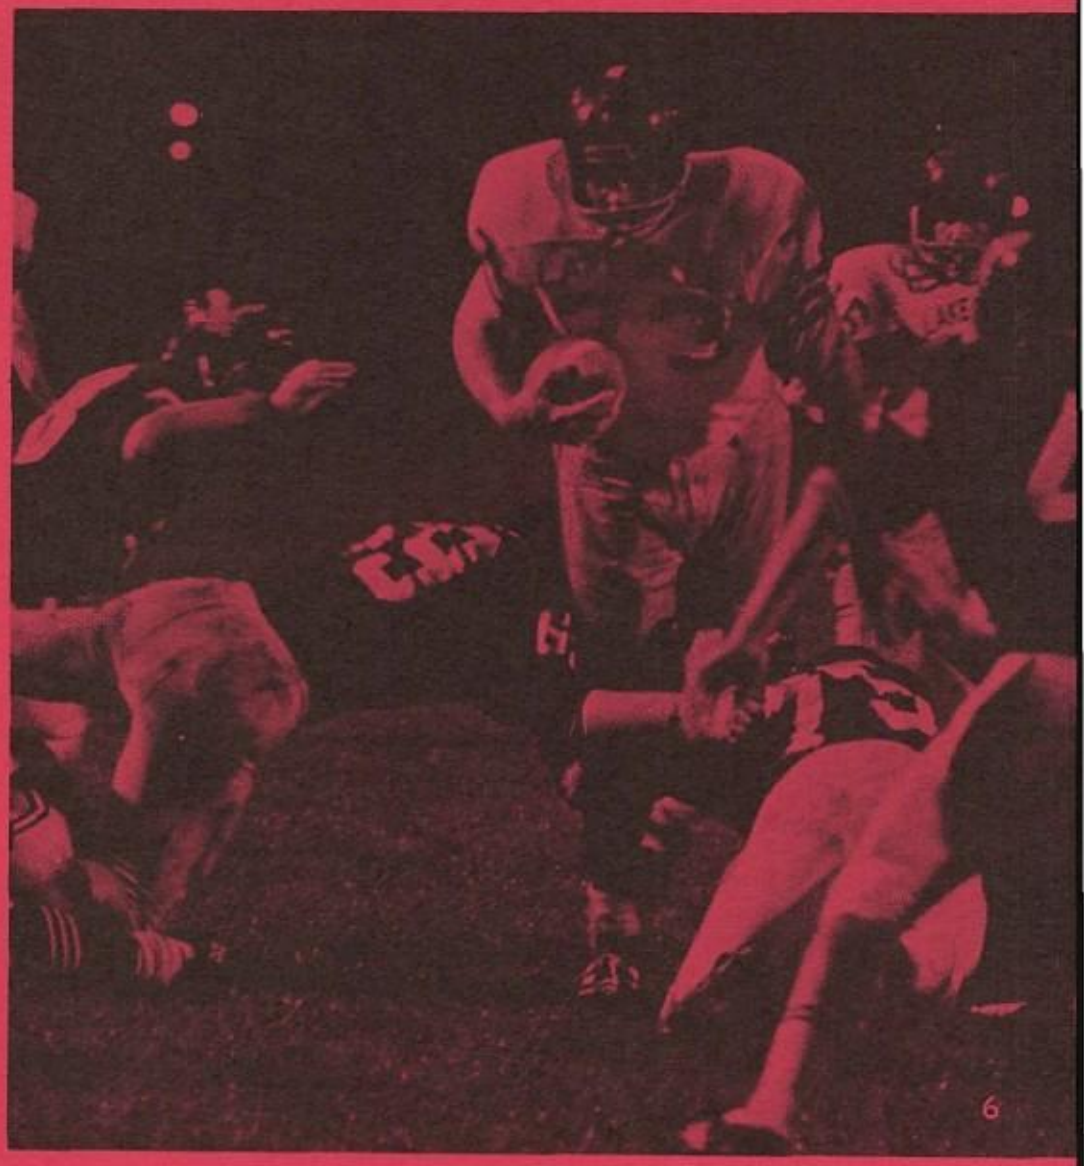
1. Mike Reed braces himself for the inevitable collision with the giant 240 pound Lake Mills fullback. 2. An elusive Lake Mills runner attempts to get outside, while Jack Holt and Pat Devney give chase. 3. Joe Stanislav utilizes his every ounce of energy as he overpowers a Hill-Murray defender. 4. Dan Pesch clutches a H-M running back as Paul Sandberg approaches for the kill. 5. Mark Daly is brought down over the goal line for the only score of the Lake Mills game. An exuberant John Harty signals "TD" to the fans. 6. Jack Holt and Mike Reed hold on for dear life, awaiting assistance from Tom Ryan to tackle Goliath.



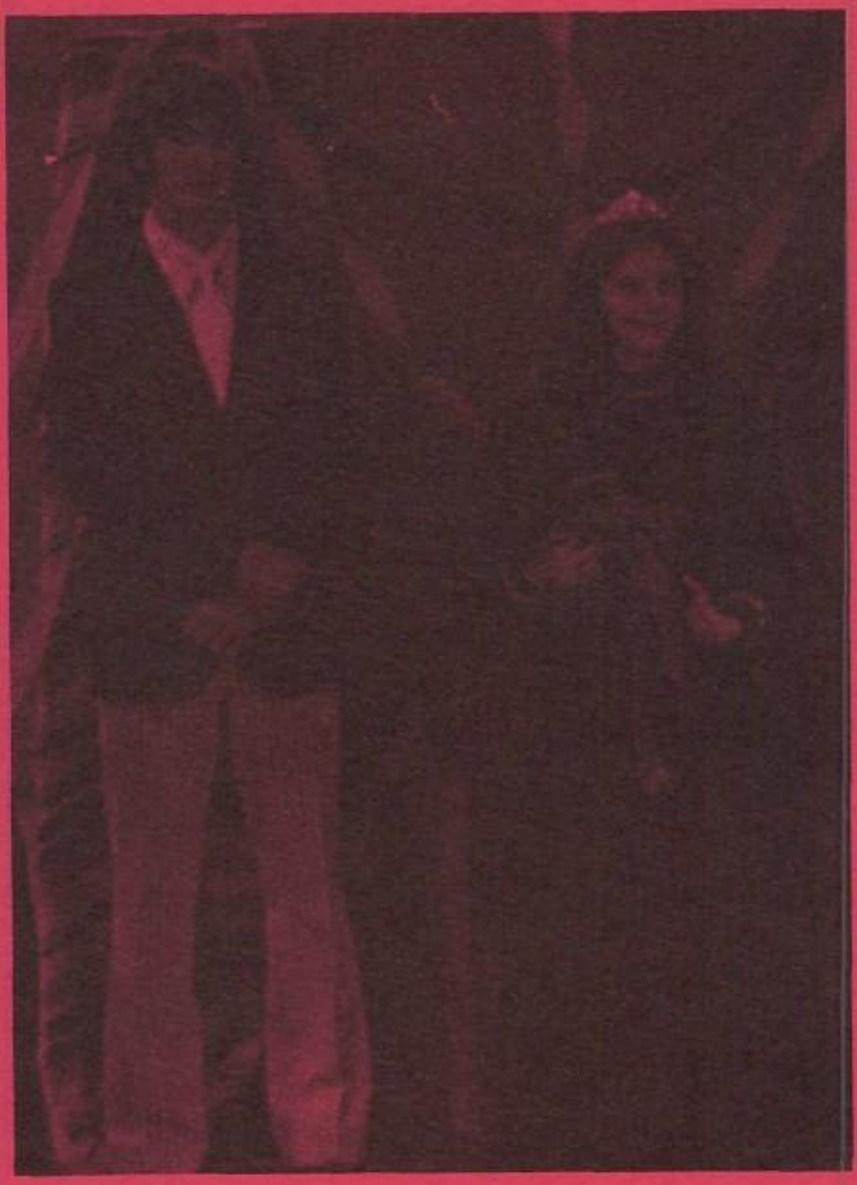


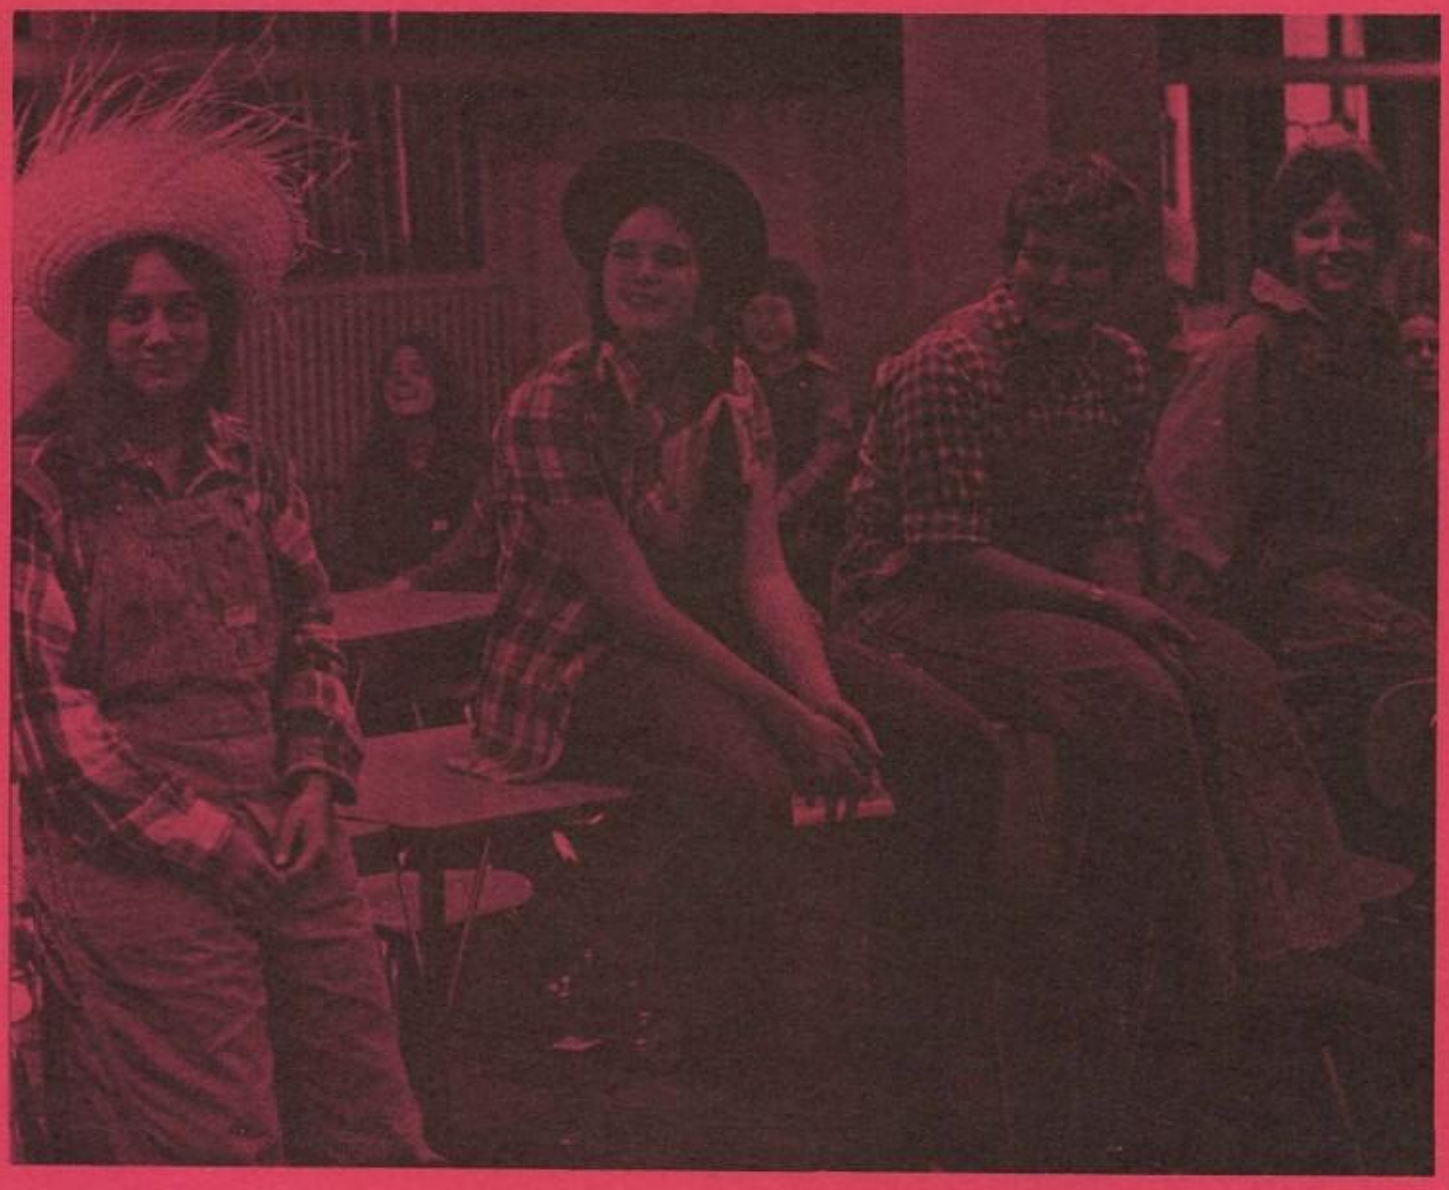
HOMECOMING OF 1973

Is it more
Than the time for a football game . . .
Is it more
Than a season for cheers and parades . . .
Does it lack the meaning
Originally had . . .
Has it always been what it is today . . .

It is a tradition dead,
Unless it fosters friendship
Or brings all involved to an understanding
Not yet realized among themselves.

The Class of '74 presents
The Homecoming of 1973.





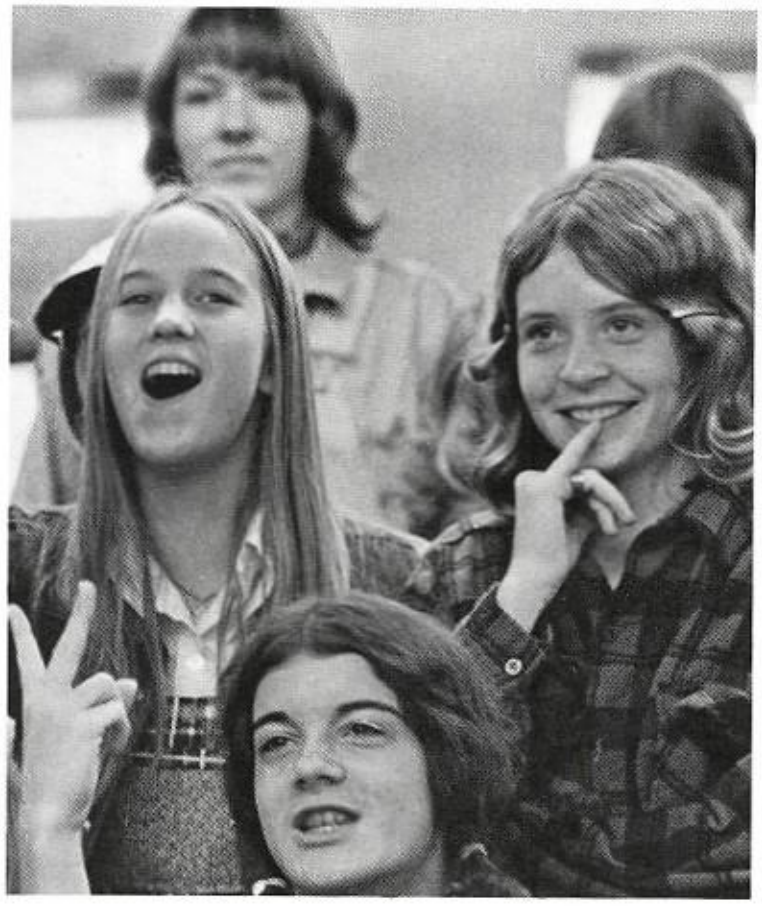
"It was good to see the spirit of homecoming alive at Lourdes." (Tom Nigon)

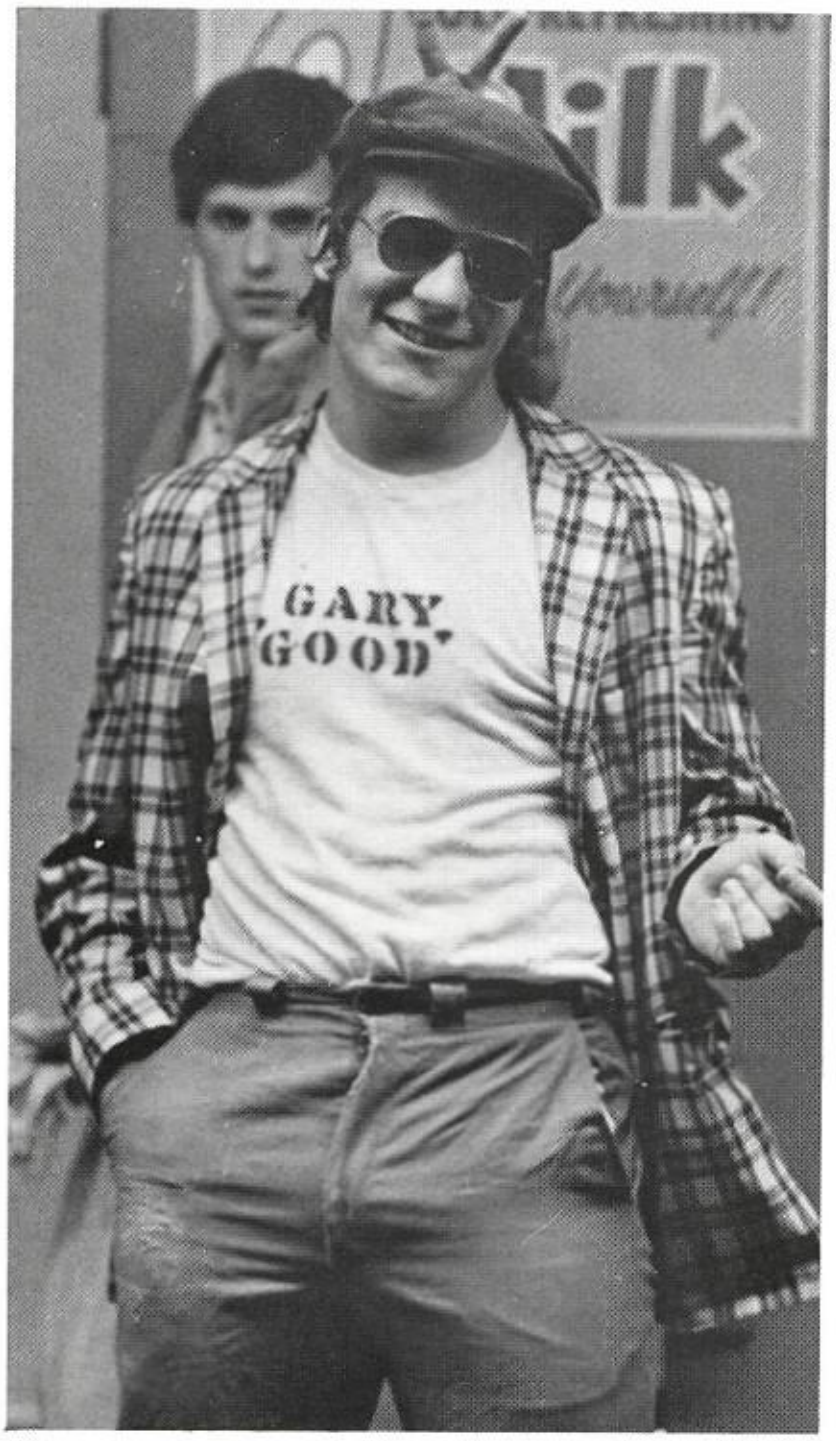
"To make the float is too rush - rush. You need more time to build a successful float." (Jim Ludowese)

"The dance was fabulous! The band wasn't that good, but everyone made it a great time." (Jean Stelley)

"As much of it that I got a chance to see I liked." (Rob Huey)

"It's about $700 of Lourdian money that is contributed to the dump." (Martha Bowman)





"The corn on the cob was delicious." (Haef)

"It brought the school a little closer at times, widened the gaps at other times." (Mike Reed)

"Game was a bummer cuz the homecoming atmosphere was gone by Monday night." (Sharon Kiely)

"The dance was bad. The band played what sounded like country-rock." (Tim Ferguson)

"The float building is a real experience." (Jeff Korsmo)

"The homecoming crowd should be more than cheerleaders, band, drill team, and a handful of kids from each class." (Kathy Frego)

"Mayer's boys played a good game even though they lost." (Terry Quirin)

"We have more activities in one week than we have in three months." (Mary Clare Baldus)

"With this being my last homecoming I'm probably more inclined to sentimentalize over it than underclassmen." (Brian Harrison)

"You got to know people you didn't know." (Karen Bartoletti)

"Can't wait til next year!" (Mary Lindberg)

UNDEFEATED NETTERS ALMOST TAKE STATE

Nine girls, an eager coach and a tennis court produced an almost championship tennis team last fall. The girls' team had its first year of play at LHS in '74. Undefeated in all its meets, the team worked out every day getting ready for State. But a first place title was just out of reach. Commented Coach Sherman, "We were so close to being the State champs I almost cried! With no seniors on any of the top four teams, next year could pose even more of a challenge. Hopefully, we can schedule more Big Nine Conference schools. As of right now we need competition on a weekly basis. We have a lot of talented, hard working athletes, a real coach's dream!"

Next year, without a doubt, the second place State team will be back for another season of smashing lobs, service aces and aggravating drop shots.

The Lark

a play by Jean Anouilh

The foundation, laid with cast selections, a multi-level stage, costumes and publicity, stood ready.

Upon it were placed weeks filled with practice; some good, some very bad. Each practice saw Joan (Deb Timmerman) thrown about by "Papa" Arc (Mike Reed), burned at the stake by the executioner (Brian Harrison), and harrassed by the Inquisitor (Henry Bromelkamp).

Spread over the surface was a script by Jean Anouilh, which raises a serious question to those who "heard" as well as saw the play: Is Man, as Joan says, 'the greatest miracle of God?' or is he as the Promoter (Mark Mueller) tells us,". . . not but sin and lust!"

The work was completed. On November 15 the cast and crew presented it to the general public for inspection. It was accepted. On November 18 the work was disassembled, making way for another challenge.

Snow is subtle.
It floats down unexpectedly
Or lashes with unpredictable savagery.
Always exempt from man's control.
No power on earth
Can force its appearance,
Nor put it to flight.
Timeless, eternal,
It was before us, with us
And shall remain after us.

EAGLE

The L.H.S. "Junior Eagle" has finally come of age. "The Eagle" straightened out its wings this year and flew weekly off the press and into the hands of some three hundred students and faculty. "The Eagle" has taken every form the mimeograph could produce with some astonishing results.

Dave Kortz and Henry Bromelkamp ran the press while Cheryl Rockenbach lent a helping hand. All three were under the "guiding eye" of Sister Diane who had weekly nervous breakdowns.

Every Friday three familiar voices could be heard in Room 212.
Voice 1--Let's see. We have two hours to get it started and finished.
Voice 2--No, only one hour. Today we have shortened mods.
Voice 3--But how far can we stretch one advertisement for a bake sale?
Voice 1--Oh, about two pages.

Despite these setbacks, "The Eagle" was always published. In between classes and over lunch, with the same problem each week: where to find some articles to print.

Although this problem will most likely never be solved, credit goes to the people of L.H.S. for their very slow but evergrowing support of "The Eagle".

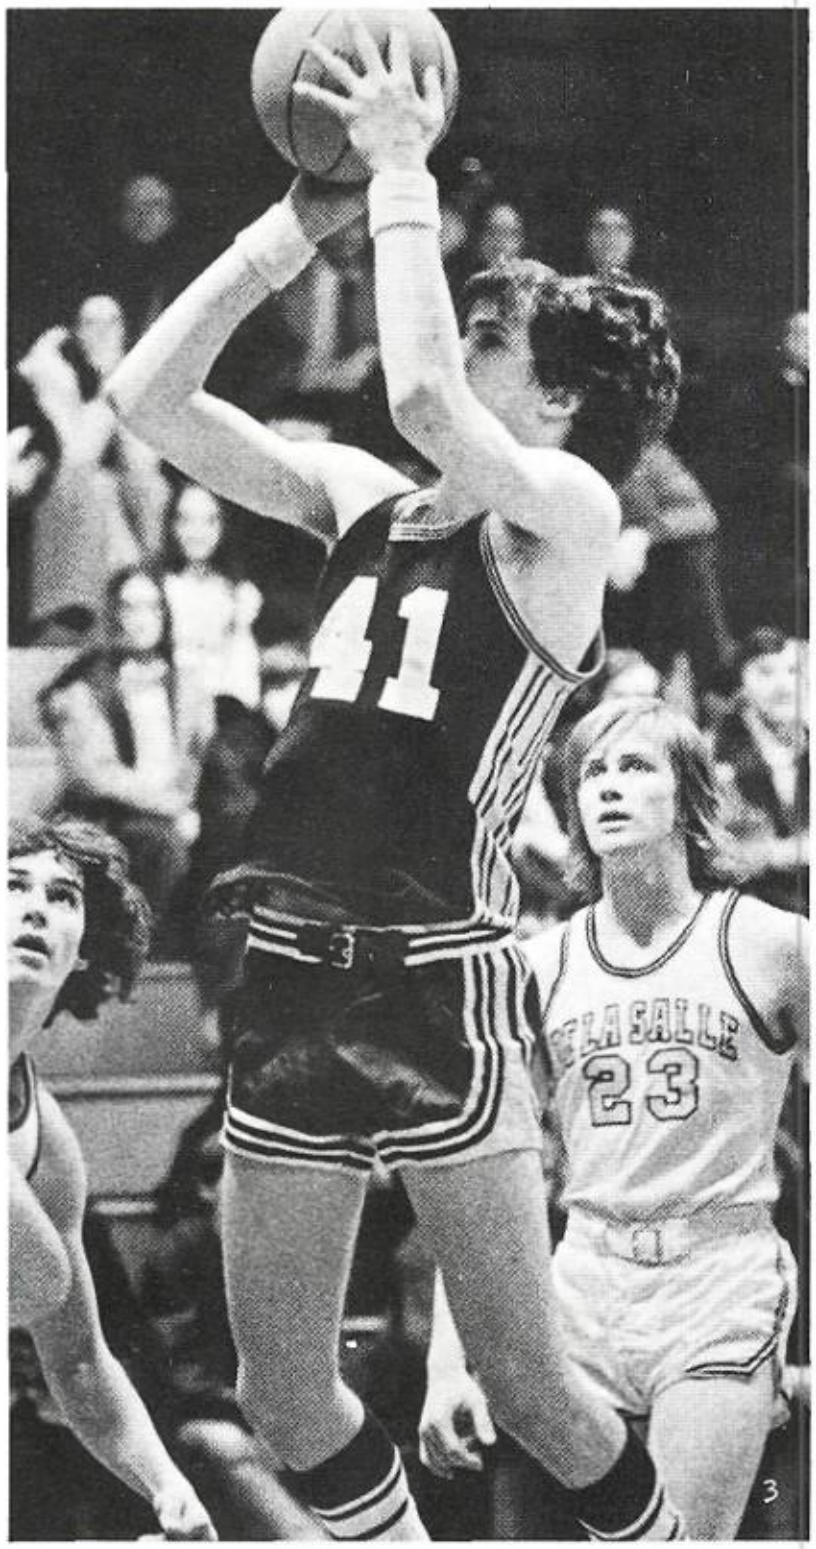
CAGER VICTORY: SECOND IN STATE

The 1973-74 Lourdes basketball season was interesting to say the least. Three starters from last year's state champion team seemed to promise Coach Jerry Fogarty another successful year. After racking up several difficult victories the Eagles finally fell to Benilde. They never really recovered after that and they began to fall behind the other CCC contenders. Lourdes ended its CCC play in sixth place.

However LHS did "pick up" for the tournaments. Eagles provided easy wins over Edgerton Southwest Christian and Sleepy Eye St. Marys. Then came the Region 6 championship game against Austin Pacelli. LHS and Pacelli fans came out in full force. The Lourdes Band and fans out-yelled the green to put the Eagles in the state tournament for the second consecutive year.



LHS was riding high as it defeated St. John Prep and Mankato Loyola in the opening and semi-final rounds. Now the stage was set for the state championship battle.

St. Paul Cretin was the definite favorite for the title. It had finished in first place in the CCC and had played a tight disciplined brand of basketball. LHS managed to stay with Cretin all the way up until the opening minutes of the second half. From then on it was all Cretin.

Later, Eagle Coach Jerry Fogarty took the blame for the loss. But LHS fans and players had nothing but praise for the Coach who had taken them to two state championship games in two years.

GIRLS SCORE UNDEFEATED SEASON; DROP TITLE

What can you say about the Lourdes Girls Basketball team (besides the fact that they're the best looking athletic team in the whole school)? During their third year as a team the girls continued a winning streak that ended in a Lourdes record of 37 straight games. The team was undefeated in its regular season and fell only to women referees and the illegitimate incorporation of ABA rules at the first official state independant girls basketball tournament. This season may have ended on a disappointing note, but the team vows to get revenge next year!

When asked to comment on this year's season, Mr. Sherman, the girls' illustrious and magnanimous coach replied, "In a way, thinking about next year carries more interest to me. Maybe its because I believe history never repeats itself (It certainly better not!). The entire team is looking forward to regaining its #1 ranking in Minnesota Girls Basketball."

LHS SIX GETS STATE MEET SPOT

Exultation . . . excitement . . . disgust . . . three words that sum up the pucksters 73-74 season. Exultation within the players and fans when the pucksters became the first Rochester hockey team in 26 years to reach a state tournament. Excitement was brewing in the crowd as the Eagles went into yet another overtime against St. Bernards. Disgust was evident in the painful loss against Blake in the State Tourney.

The Eagles, under new coach Marv Peters, had a right to be optimistic this season. They had a powerful group of seniors, some hard hitting, such as Bruce Stolp and some high scoring, such as Tim Kelley.

LHS started the season with a hard loss to Albert Lea. After a few mediocre games, the pucksters bounced back with a powerful win over Brady, 5-2. This, according to Coach Peters, was one of the best efforts up to that point in the season. The Eagles after two well-played loses to Hill-Murray and Cretin went into the Christmas layoff.

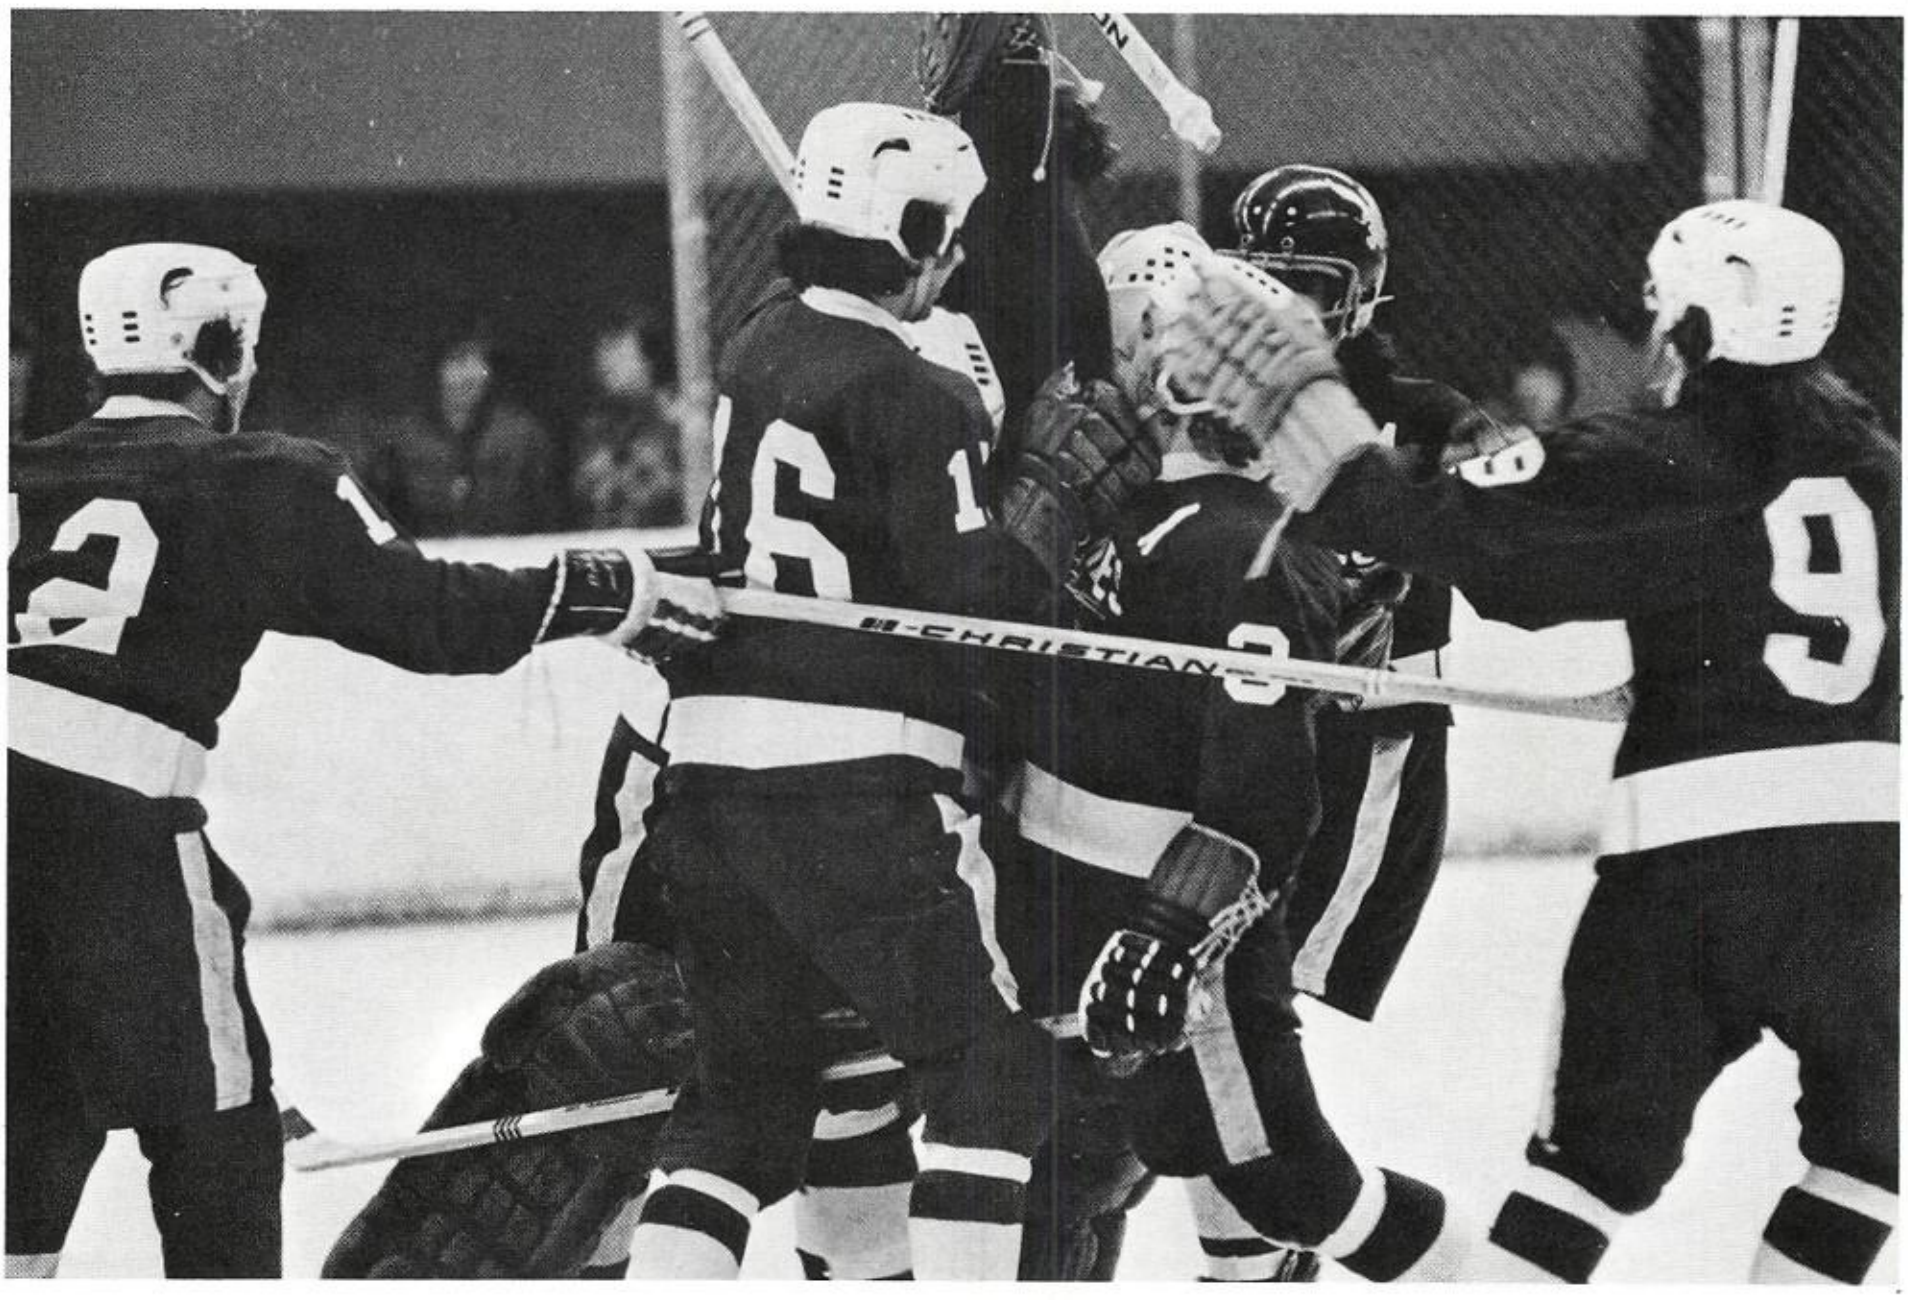
Lourdes started well after the rest when they defeated Rosemount 6-5. January was a winning month; the Eagles compiled a 3-2 record. From February 8-16 the Eagles played seven games. It was a tough, grueling eight days, but the team came out on top with a 4-3 record.

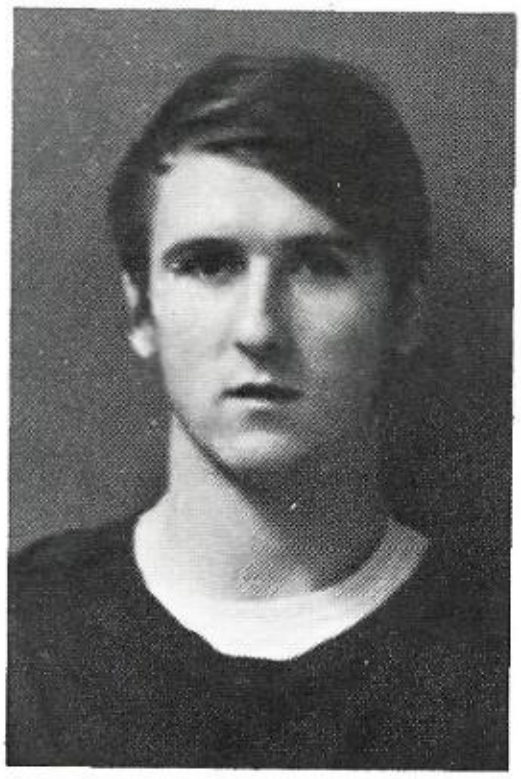
LHS now faced regional tournaments. The pucksters were to skate against an old foe, Shattuck. The game was a thriller; with four minutes and four seconds left Mark Quirin, assisted by Tim Kelley, made a perfect goal.

The Eagles and four busloads of fans went to state tournament where some people said they didn't belong. The pucksters sought to prove these critics wrong, but were unable to do so in a crushing loss to Blake, 12-1. In the second round, Lourdes met a strong Duluth-Cathedral. The Eagles played gallantly but suffered a hard defeat of 3-1.

The pucksters finished with a respectable 13-10-1 record and a better than average record in the tough Central Catholic Conference; they came a long way since their first season four years ago.

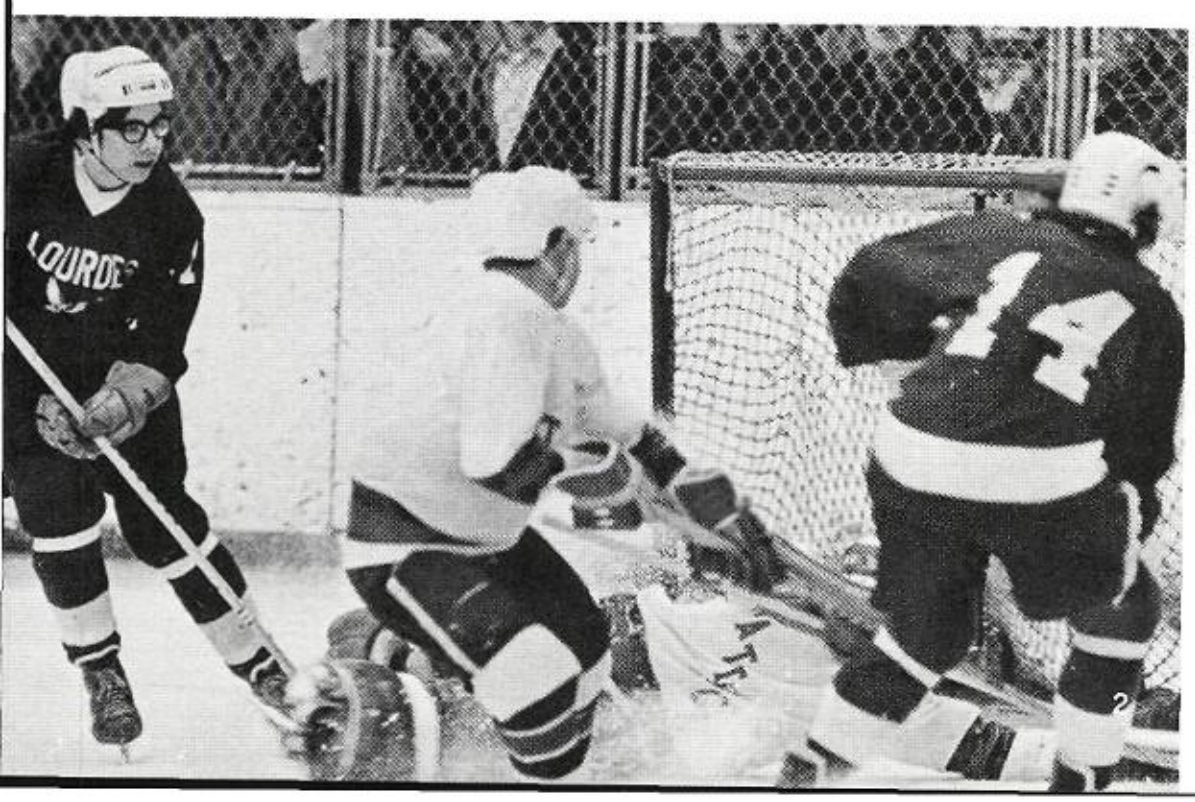
Tom Wolf and Tom Nobrega





Kelley Only LHS Skater On All-CCC

Tim Kelley has led the hockey team in scoring since his freshman year. This year he broke the Rochester scoring record in prep hockey with 111 points over four years. Kelley scored 69 career goals and 61 assists for 130 points. He was named to the CCC team in 1973 and 1974.



1. Tim Kelley skates for control of the puck. 2. Tim Brownell looks for a possible goal. 3. Tom Kane maneuvers for a crack at another goal.

1. Mark Quirin does some fancy footwork around a disabled goalie opponent. 2. Mark Sparks scores a point for the home team.

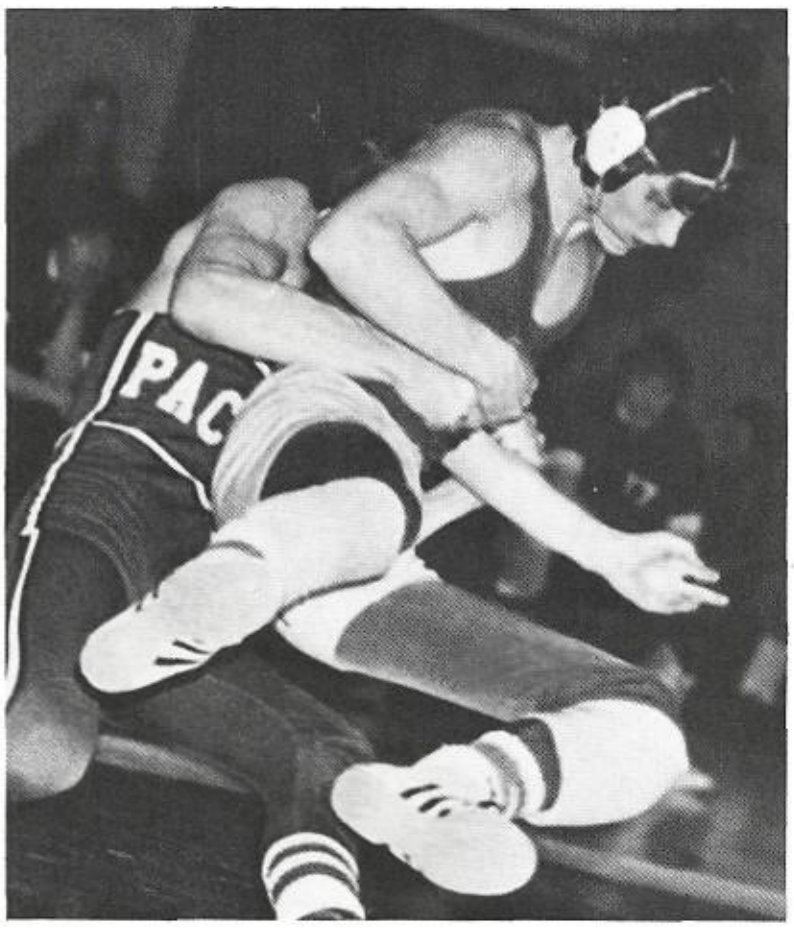
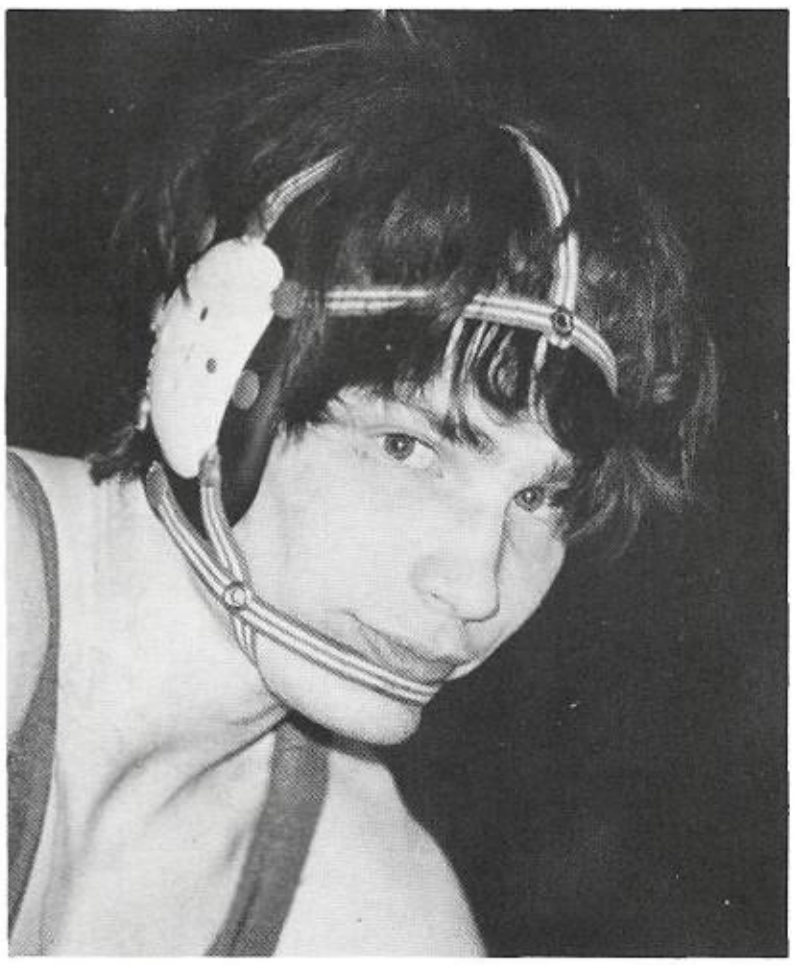
WRESTLING TEAM ON UPSWING; SUCCESS SMELLS VERY SWEET



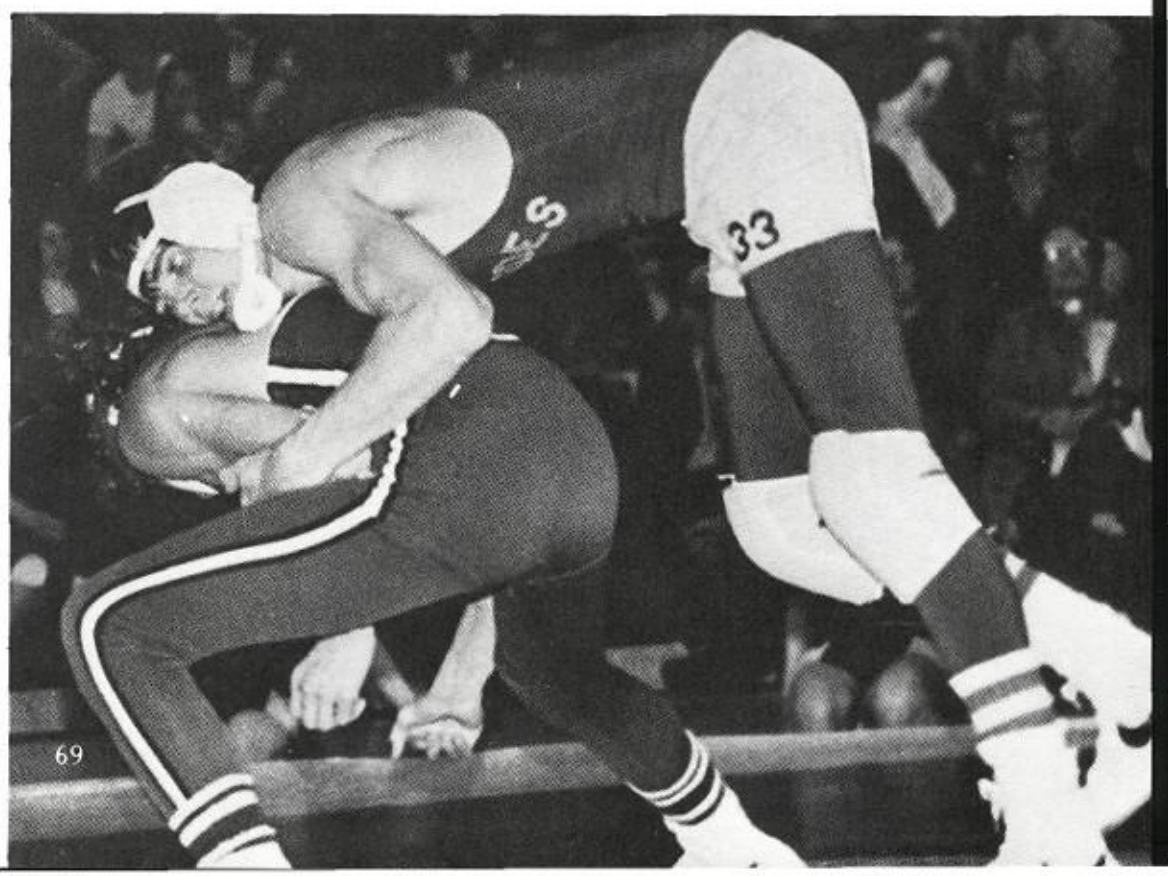


Two seasons ago, the wrestling team was the incarnation of defeat. It was a team steeped in a long tradition of loosing, and it continued the practice with losses by such remarkable scores as 54-6, 51-3 and 53-3. To be a wrestler during this era meant to be humiliated, to bear abandoment, to doubt one's self, to despair. To the rare outsider who paid it notice, wrestling was an antonym of success. But to the beleaguered few who comprised the team, wrestling was also synonymous with hope.

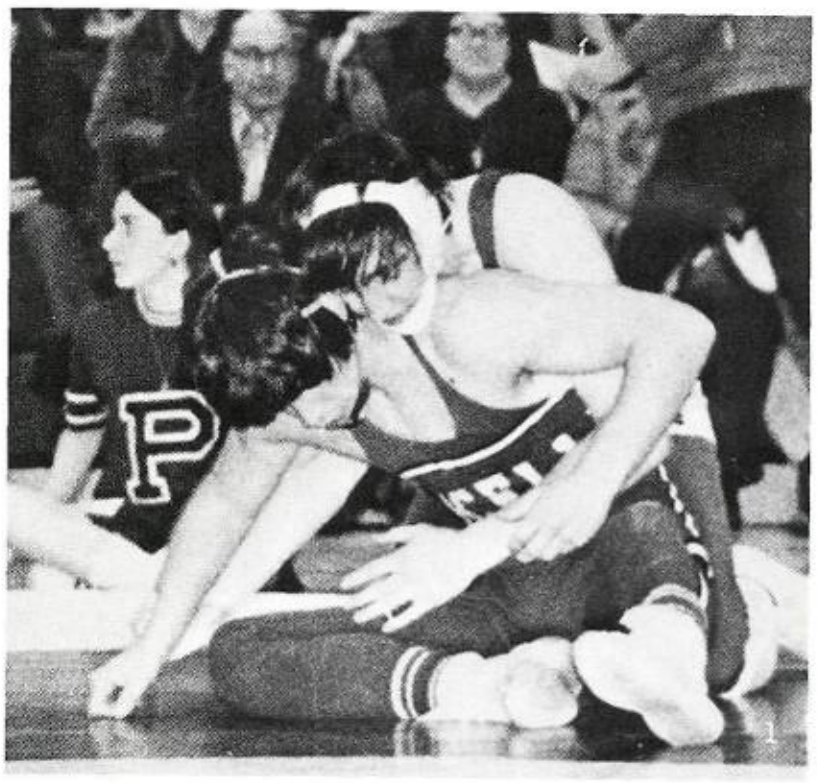
A season ago, the theme was transition. A slow, painful building process that had sprouted amid the quagmire of the previous year had blossomed into a rebirth of great vitality. It was a refreshing time to be a wrestler, but it was not without its moments as any within memory, but hope for things to come and a tremendous esprit de corps was inspiration enough to carry the unit eagerly through the campaign. To the uninitiated public, it was a mystery how a year of seven wins and twelve losses could be regarded with such satisfaction. But to the growing circle that followed grappling, it was sweet success indeed.

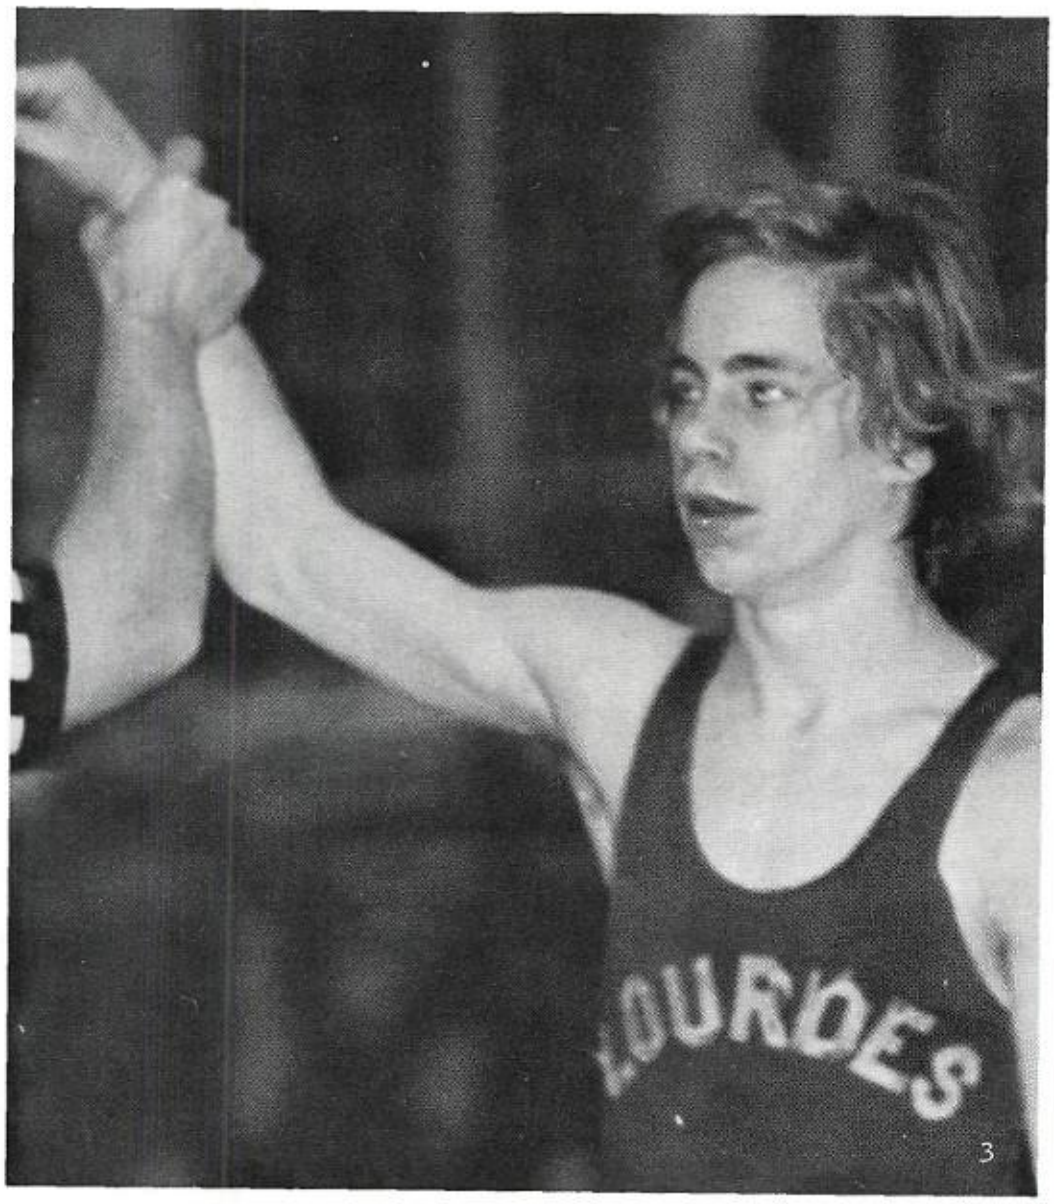
And on the third year, they arose from the dead. In a year as joyful as any resurrection, the first winning season in six years was hewed out against a trying twenty-seven meet schedule. Victory came often enough and resounding enough to provide the long anticipated rewards, but defeat came with enough regularity to provide great impetus for success next year. The sport of wrestling is an activity that never makes promises, but the prospects for the coming year appear to be of unprecedented calibre. For those who graduate from the program, the experience of being involved in a rejuvenation nearly equaled to that of Lazarus shall surely never be forgotten. For the outsiders, the record finally speaks for itself.

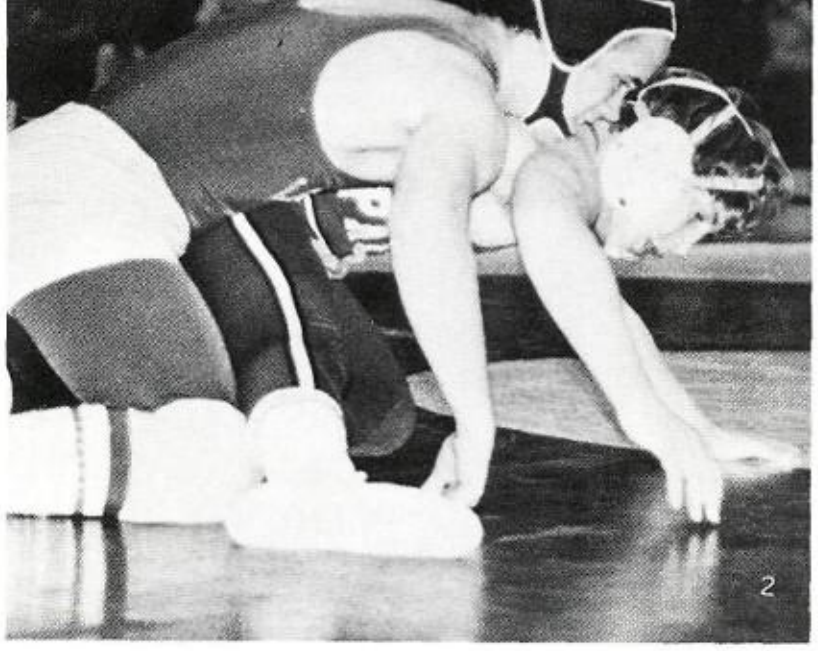
-Brian Harrison



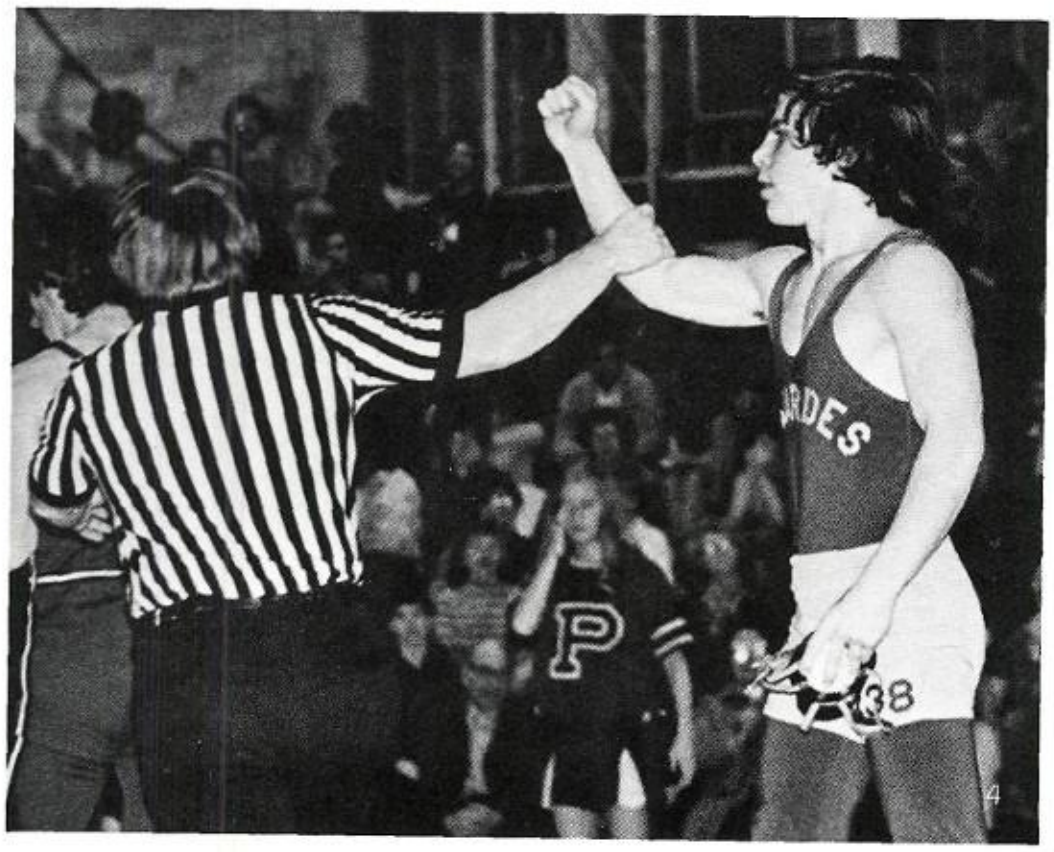
1. Mike Ryan struggles to overtake formidable Pacelli opponent. 2. Heavyweight Tim Ferguson tightens his grip on Pacelli grappler.

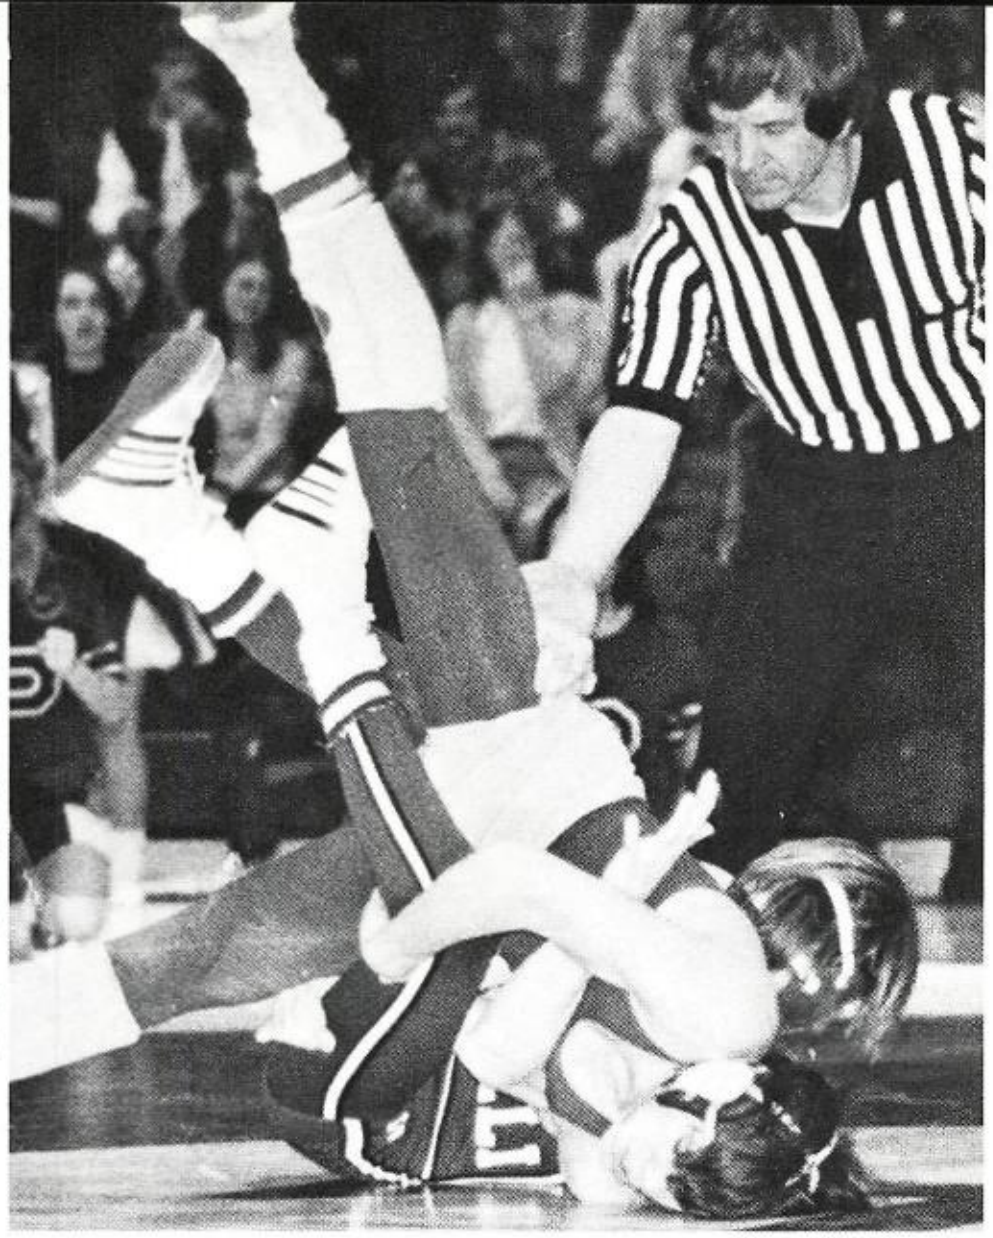






3. Scott Lawler rests content in another victory 4. Steve Ohly, the only LHS grappler to make it to state, chalks up another win.





1. Dave Stellpflug goes for a pin amid a confusion of arms and legs. 2. Steve Kocer reflects the success of an awfully good season.

TRACK SEASON SPARKED BY NOTABLE THINCLADS

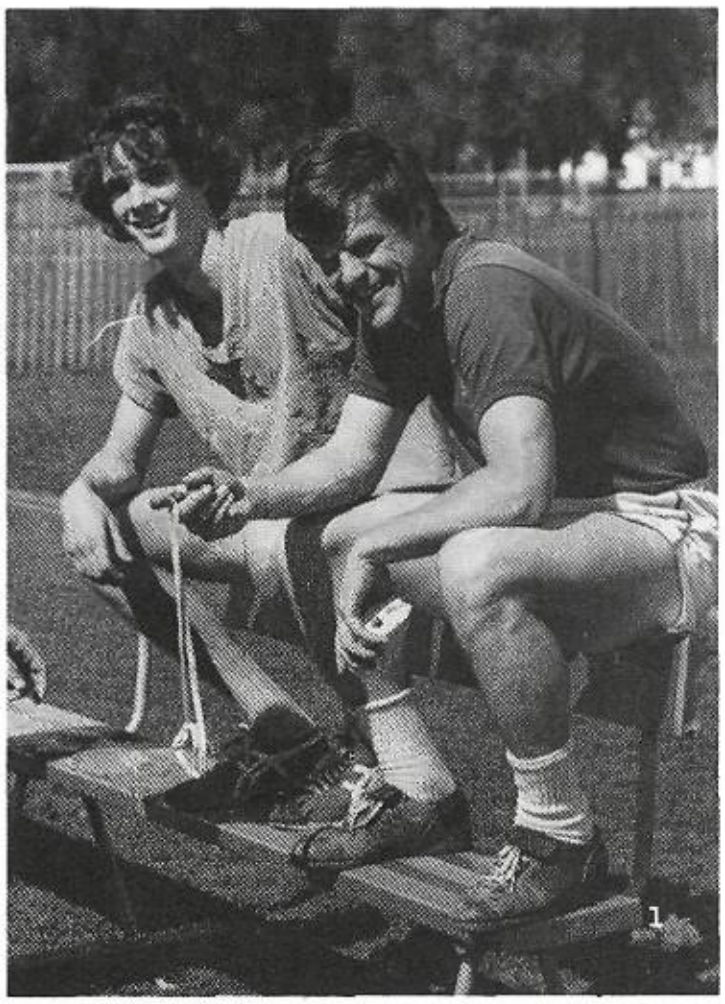
The 1974 boys' track season must be deemed a success. A second place regional finish and a seventh place in the state meet could hardly be called a failure or even mediocre.

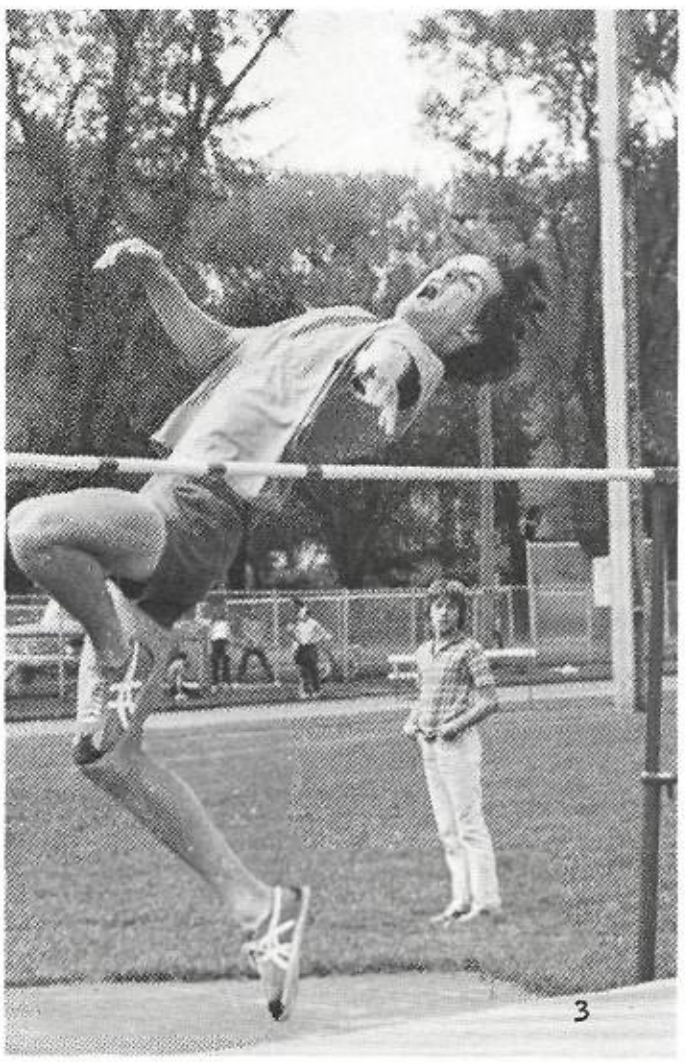
Coach Jewison's thinclads were hampered by bad training weather and lack of depth in the early meets. These were key factors in poor shows at the state indoor and the St. John's and Waterloo invitationals.

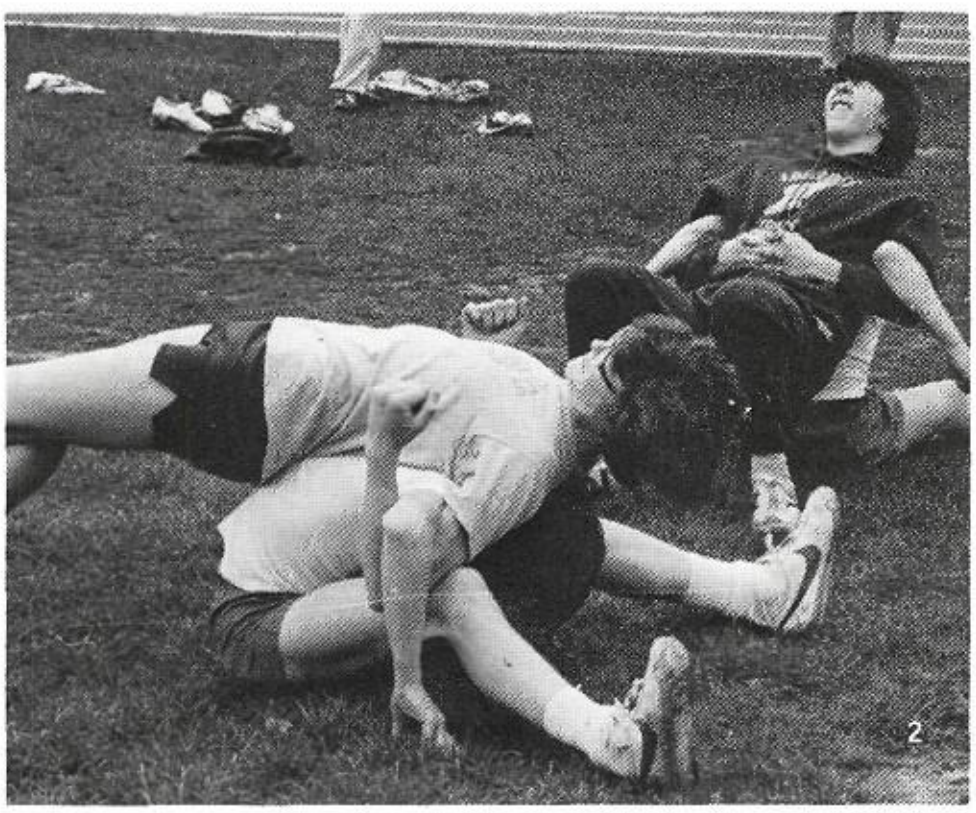
By May it was clear that the success or failure of the season would rest on the shoulders of some key individuals. Junior Pete Gathje (two-mile) is a runaholic who won the region in a record time of 9:45.4. Senior Dan Miller came on strong at state to take a second in the 880 with a sizzling 1:58. Senior Paul Theobald went a personal high of 6'2" to take a second which under ordinary circumstances would have been a first. Two really 'heavy' guys picked up some points in the weight events as Jack Holt and Mick Reed took third and fifth respectively in the state meet.

Coach Jewison, an English instructor who has a way with the language, summed up the season rather concisely, "good job."

-Tim Marx







1. Coach Dave Jewison and senior high jumper Paul Theobald share a light moment. 2. Dedicated underclassmen going through a rigorous training program. 3. Paul Theobald goes up and over.

GIRLS TRACK PACES TO SECOND PLACE AT STATE

Girl's track . . . little pulled muscles and lots of hard work . . . so much complaining but the attainment of undreamed-of accomplishments. All the pain and sacrifices of time, despite a "farmer tan," make the state meet take on unequalled importance.

It's not all bad . . . how else could you meet the guys on the JC track team? Steak for breakfast is terrific. Beating out somebody from Pacelli does something for you.

After a while you feel like you belong on a bus. You don't even notice the noise, except those seniors sure were loud when they could have been sleeping.

In track you win or you don't. You learn how to take losing but you're taught not to get used to it. Despite some of the worst handoffs and awful cases of nerves, the record was very respectable. Where have you encountered such devotion of a coach but still remained so hesitant to show your appreciation?

Maybe love isn't what you feel for track, but when the season is over and you know you can't go back, you sure feel like there's something missing . . . sweats . . . oranges . . . Hershey bars . . . Trackorama . . . There's a Seeley . . . West Union, Iowa . . . How many 220's?

INEXPERIENCE HOLDS BACK NETTERS

The 1974 season for the LHS tennis team will not go down in history as one of the most successful years in the won-loss column. The Eagles, with a new coach and only one returning senior, could not get the ball bouncing their way.

The team was loaded with new, inexperienced faces which showed up time and again as the netters came away from meets disappointed with only one good consistent performer. The going got pretty rough as the Eagles were defeated twice by both Cotter and Pacelli. Lourdes' best finish at invitational meets was at St. John's University where the Eagles finished sixth in a field of sixteen teams.

In the state meet at St. Paul, LHS finished in a tie for twelfth place out of twenty-three as senior Meg Horan won all her matches before succumbing in the quarterfinals.

The '74 season did show a lot of promise, however. Experienced gained by several underclassmen and the leadership of three returning lettermen could change '74's defeats into '75's victories.

OF THEE I SING

"Of Thee I Sing", a political satire written in the 1930's, opened in this year 1974 with a timely story-line and enough good humor to put a mind at ease with today's problems.

John P. Wintergreen (Dan Pesch) is elected on a platform of love. He is to marry Miss White House, Diana Devereaux, played by Martha Bowman. But cad that he is, John "jilts" Diana for plain and sweet Mary Turner (Liz Pesch). All goes well until France claims Diana Devereaux as a citizen and demands John's and Mary's marriage be annulled. John's refusal to marry Diana brings the Senate to an impeachment trial. Guilty verdicts ring through the chamber. A sad ending for John. But wait! Mary has come to save the day with the announcement that John is about to be a father! "Not guilty" cried the senators, for "Posterity is just around the corner!" Miss Devereaux does not lose all, she marries the vice-president, Alexander Throttle. . . something, acted out by Mike Charron.

Finishing with a chorus of "Of Thee I Sing, Baby" the cast sent the audience toe-tapping back to reality.

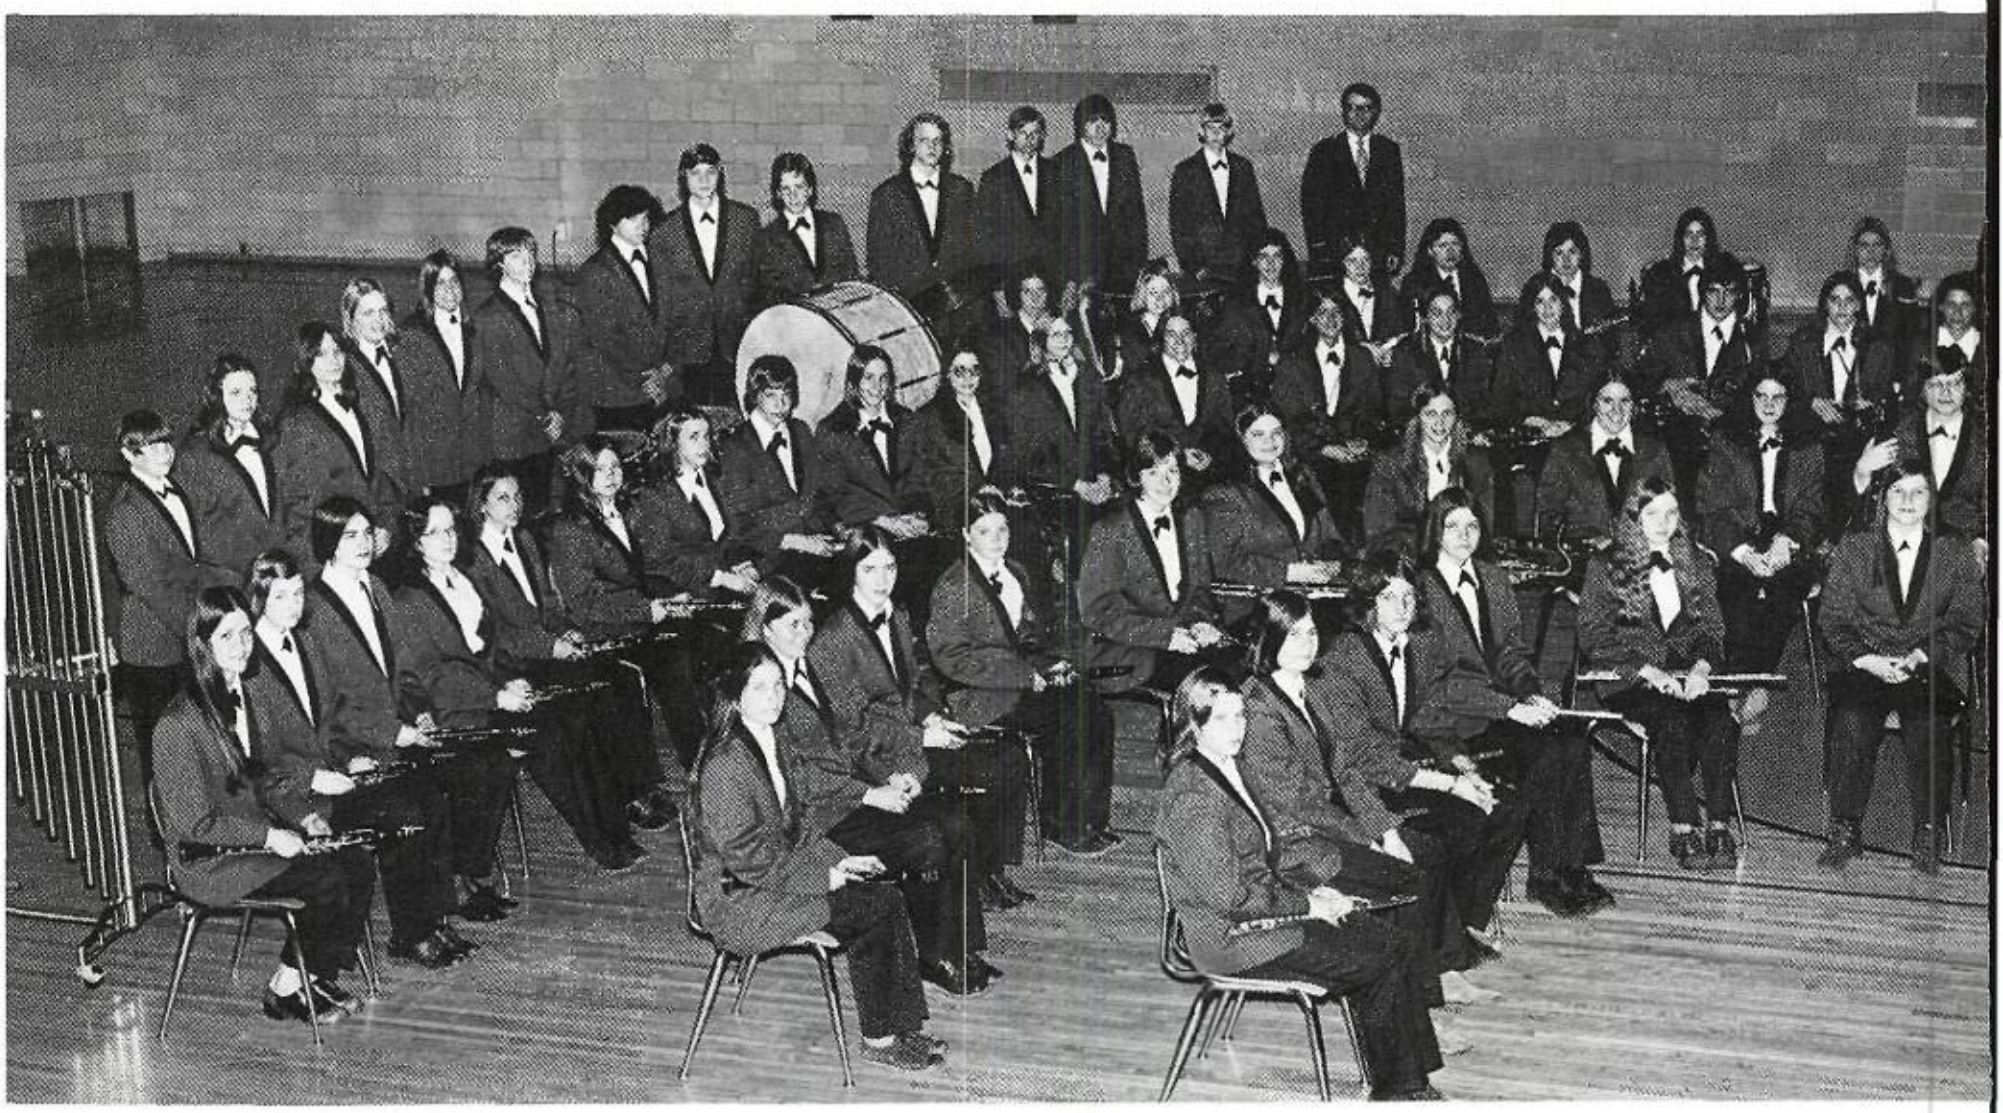
THE LOURDES CONCERT 1973



As always the Lourdes Band was in the middle of it all this year. Having picked up a few tips from our U. of M. Marching Band connection, the L.H.S. Band added these items to its vast repertoire: (one, two, three) UP!, E-cadence, and marching band concert. Also new to the marching band scene were the mini-megas (limited supply, get yours now before they run out, like say 1985?). As always the marching band season closed with a great deal of regret. Seniors sadly put away their mud-soaked, frozen (white) sneakers for the last time, and underclassmen look forward to next year with wild anticipation.

HIGH SCHOOL BAND 1974

After hanging up marching band for another season, the one-hundred-odd band members honed their instrumental expertise into a pretty decent concert band. Under the direction of "coach" Gene Eiden the L.H.S. concert band "took state" at the State Band Festival with an A rating.

All in all it was a typical year for the Lourdes Band. With football, basketball, and hockey games, Bandorama, concerts, and parades, no band member can ever complain of not having enough to do.

LINKSTERS TIE FOR FIFTH PLACE AT STATE

"I don't mean to brag but I think we'll be tough again." So said Lourdes golf coach Father Don Lovas prior to the '74 golf season. He had reason to believe so - the '73 corps, which compiled an excellent record and took sixth place in the state meet, was identical to the '74 squad save for one graduate.

Father Lovas set three goals for his promising squad. He wanted an undefeated season, an LHS state medalist and most of all, a state championship. Thoughts about an unbeaten season were erased immediately when the Eagles lost their opening match against Pacelli. The linksters then got hot as team balance and toughness on their home course kept them flying high. Then as state drew closer, the Eagles' performance tailed off some.

Nine players had a shot at competing in state but only four participated. Lourdes' Jim Bantley was co-medalist, but the team failed to get the "biggie." The Eagles finished in a tie for fifth as the state championship eluded Lourdes once again.

BEGINNINGS

Let a joy keep you.
Reach out your hands
And take it when it runs by,
As the Apache dancer
Clutches his woman.
I have seen them
Live long and laugh loud,
Sent on singing, singing,
Smashed to the heart
Under the ribs
With a terrible love.
Joy always,
Joy everywhere--
Let joy kill you!
Keep away from the little deaths.

ENRICHMENT DAYS

In an effort to restore interest, a forgotten characteristic among Lourdes students, the administration joined with the Lourdes faculty in creating Enrichment Days. The basic idea came from social science teacher Mr. Marv Peters who had experience with a similar program at Loyola High School of Mankato. A faculty committee led by Mr. Peters searched for course topics to offer students. The result was nearly a hundred various courses ranging from crocheting to yoga.

To register over five hundred students in a period of two days proved equally difficult. Armed with note cards, box files, permission slips, and relatively quick intellects, faculty members became a part of the "human computer" created in the weight room by the Commons. With little trouble and no complete "breakdowns" the human computer processed and rechecked all registrations.

The days themselves proved to be the easiest part. Classes and activities began May 1st and continued through May 3rd. Each day had five hours of fun with one hour of lunch followed by another hour of assembly. Twenty-one hours of enjoyment did bring interest back to Lourdes, but tired, weak, and sore students were glad to get back to the old classroom routine for a rest.
